

About fruit2work

We are a social enterprise dedicated to creating job opportunities for those who need a second chance such as former offenders. Our employees have worked hard to turn their lives around and need someone to give them an opportunity to continue on their journey.

Our fruit boxes:

- We deliver high quality fruit boxes to offices multiple times a week
- We are always low on price and will match your existing supplier
- We deliver to both small businesses and large companies with multiple offices
- We can recommend an assortment of fruit based on season or you can design your own box
- We are committed to quality and are confident you will love our fruit. We do not require any contracts

Former offenders struggle to find regular work due to:

- Lack of work experience to show prospective employers
- Their need to attend mandatory and/or voluntary support services during work hours
- Unwillingness of employers to give them a go due to stigma and uncertainty

We solve this problem by offering transitional employment:

- Former offenders comprise at least 50% of our staff doing all operational jobs<sup>1</sup>
- Counselling and mentoring is available to our employees so they can be successful at work and reintegrate into the community
- Employees have flexibility to work and attend mandatory appointments
- Employees are provided with an opportunity to prove their capability at work and will be significantly better positioned for long term employment

Who we work with?

- We understand that former offenders looking to reintegrate need several kinds of support in addition to employment. We partner with two major charities:
  - TaskForce - with over 40 years experience providing support to people in serious need
  - First Step - with many years experience reintegrating former offenders into the workforce
- Our model is inspired and influenced by international and Australian companies such as Toll Holdings that have integrated former offenders into their workforce
