

PartTimer.Jobs Bios

Vivian Morresey — Managing Director

Vivian's a self-confessed technology wave rider having been in the industry for over 30 years, working in senior positions with international brands and technologies. He has a close affinity with the start up community and teamed up Marketing Director Rebecca Gidall in 2016 to develop and fund PartTimer. He has held senior management roles at Xero, Eyemagnet, Greenbutton and with a number of successful start ups.

Rebecca Gidall — Marketing Director

As a high school student about to start university, Rebecca became tired of trying and failing to find part time work. She could see the system was broken and had an idea to solve it. She ditched university after two weeks at the beginning of 2016 and backed herself to bring PartTimer to life.

Rebecca began her road to entrepreneurship while still at school. She was selected as one of 80 representatives from a pool of 3,000 to attend Enterprise in Action, a competition hosted by the Young Enterprise Trust. She and her team went on to win the national competition and represented New Zealand in the international round.

She was then selected as one of New Zealand's top 40 young entrepreneurs to attend Venture Up, a six week accelerator programme and at 18 became the youngest person ever to be accepted onto the Global Growth Programme (GGP) run by Creative HQ in Wellington.

Through Venture Up, Rebecca connected with Vivian and other committed specialists to develop PartTimer.