MISSOURI BOTANICAL GARDEN

Dr. Peter Wyse Jackson

Welcome to the 27th annual Best of Missouri Market®! The Garden is honored to host more than 120 of the best food producers and artisans from Missouri, as well as wonderfully talented guest vendors from neighboring communities, for this three-day marketplace. I hope you enjoy browsing our tents and discovering handcrafted treasures, delicious foods and wines, and, of course, beautiful plants. Be sure to visit our Kids' Corner, food court, craft beer and cocktail court, and music stage, as well.

The Market would not be possible without the volunteers who devote countless hours of effort and support, or the generous sponsors who help ensure the event's success.

Happy shopping!

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Peter Wyse Jackson". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letters of each name being capitalized and prominent.

Working Together Toward ZERO WASTE!

The Garden strives to divert over 90% of Market waste from the landfill by:

- Asking food vendors to use only Certified Compostable ware for serving and sampling
- Recycling beverage cans and bottles and all cardboard
- Using volunteer Zero Waste Ambassadors to educating and assist visitors at our Waste Stations
- Relying on our facility support team to help sort waste while keeping the Market neat
- Sending recyclables on to be processed into new products.
- Composting all food and serving waste into soil amendments at a local facility

Thanks to our vendors, volunteers, and visitors for keeping this huge event's footprint small.

YOU help the Garden show the way to be Green Today—Greener Tomorrow!

WHAT TO DO IN YOUR GARDEN NOW

Throughout October

- Plant spring bulbs among hostas, ferns, daylilies, or ground covers. As these plants grow they will hide the dying bulb foliage.
- Plant container-grown and balled-and-burlapped trees and shrubs now. Loosen the soil in an area two times the diameter of the root ball before planting. Mulch well after watering. Continue watering, if soils are dry.
- Store apples in a cool basement in old plastic sacks that have been perforated for good circulation.
- Sow cover crops such as winter rye after crops are harvested.

Week 1

- Christmas cactus, potted azaleas, and kalanchoe may be left outdoors until night temperatures drop to 40° F.
- Continue harvesting tender crops such as winter squash and pumpkins before frost. For best storage quality, leave an inch or two of stem on each. Dig sweet potatoes before a bad freeze.
- Gourds should be harvested when their shells become hard or when their color changes from green to brown.
- Cover tender plants with sheets or lightweight fabric covers to protect from frost.

Week 2

- Cannas and dahlias can be dug when frost nips their foliage. Allow the plants to dry under cover in an airy, frost-free place before storage.

Week 3

- Transplant deciduous trees once they have dropped their leaves.
- Monitor fruit plantings for mouse activity and take steps for control.
- Continue mowing lawns until growth stops. Keep leaves raked off lawns to prevent smothering grass. Now is a good time to apply lime if soil tests indicate.

Week 4

- Plant tulips now.
- Trees may be fertilized now, following soil test guidelines.
- Place wire guards around trunks of young fruit trees for protection against mice and rabbits.
- Winterize mowers before storage.
