

Boost your business now with mobipost for MINDBODY

The health and wellness sector is highly competitive. We know you are under constant pressure to control costs and at the same time ensure continued growth for your business. This means relevant and highly targeted marketing is more important than ever.

Why waste your time sending a generic message to an entire list when it only applies to a certain segment?

Communicating through 'traditional' means such as SMS is still the most represented function of the mobile world, with 90% of Australian smartphone owners using SMS.
