Management, consignors look ahead to this year's Standardbred Horse Sale

By Greg Reinhart

@gregreinhart

The 2026 Standardbred Horse Sale in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, which gets underway on Monday, November 2, gives buyers who didn't get their quota in October's Lexington Selected Yearling Sale another chance at yearlings or older horses in the mixed sale that goes on Thursday and Friday.

Dale Welk, President and Operations Manager for the Standardbred Horse Sales company, had a keen eye on the Lexington sale and came away seeing that the top-end remained robust but did have concerns about horses just below that level.

"I think the market is strong, especially on the high-end it seems to be. I'm still a little nervous about the middle market," Welk said. "Theirs was okay, but their middle market wasn't super-strong as you've seen with some of the horses that sold. The lower end's come up pretty good, but that middle market's just kind of falling away. Not horrible, but enough that you can tell it.

"I think about (if the money in the market will still be strong after Lexington) every year, but it seems like everything's alright. People still have (money to spend). It's like last year Lexington had a record gross and we had a record gross sale. So, there was still plenty of money to be had."

As usual, Monday's opening afternoon session is loaded with well-bred pacers and trotters to bid on, and Welk thinks that the group is more eye-catching than last year's. He also remarked that Lexington cutting a day gave some opportunities for people to bring their horses to Harrisburg later in the week, and that he was willing to give them a chance at a major event.

"I think day one's stronger than last year's day one," Welk remarked. "I think all three days are a little bit stronger. There are some horses that I took that are maybe on the third day that I probably wouldn't, but with some of the cuts and stuff that were going on out west, and Lexington cutting back to four days, I like to help the new guy or the young guy or the little guy now and then.

"Does it burn me? I don't put a ton of weight on averages like a lot of people do. Geoff Stein was the best person about that. When I took over as General Manager at Garden State, he said, 'Don't think about averages until the end of the year and you average everything out. You average all the sales. Then you can decide, well, that stallion didn't do so well.'"

Overall in 2025, the Standardbred Horse Sale did a record five-day gross of $74.6 million, and while Welk realizes that number won't be achieved this year due to declines in the number of horses available in the mixed sale, he was okay with that since it meant there aren't a number of farms dispersing their stock like there were a year ago.

"We had a record sale, but we had six dispersals and accounted for probably $15 to $16 million of that money," he noted. "We're not going to have a $75 million sale this year. We're down over 200 in the mixed sale. And you know what? I'd rather be down like that than see any more places go out of business. We do have one (dispersal). We have phase one of the Spring Station, of course. They're selling their in-foal mares here."

Welk was also looking forward to the opportunity to see and sell 2025 Horse of the Year Beau Jangles in the mixed sale on Friday, November 6.

Standardbred Horse Sales Company President Dale Welk is optimistic that the results in Harrisburg will be strong but admits the gross will fall with fewer Mixed Sale entrants.

"This is probably the easiest way for them to sell, but I can't believe we're getting him in the sale," he finished.

HANOVER SHOE FARMS READY TO SHOWCASE THEIR OFFERINGS

With renowned Hanover Shoe Farms not currently bringing yearlings to Lexington, Harrisburg is the chance to purchase their horses, and Farm Manager Patti Murphy was enthused about what they have to offer.

"We have 32 yearlings selling on day one, with 13 of those being dual-eligible to the Kentucky program," she said. "Our trotting fillies are strong as ever and we have some incredible-looking trotting colts to offer.

"Day one should be exciting, but we have a solid group to follow the rest of the sale. I think we have something for every range."

As far as some of their individuals go, first up is HIP 43 Coffeeshop Hanover, a Chapter Seven full sister to Maryland and three-quarter sister to Climatic Hanover, who won this year's Kentuckiana Stallion Management for 2-year-old filly trotters and was fourth in her Breeders Crown final. Coffeeshop Hanover's other three-quarter sibling Cambridge Hanover sold for $1 million at the 2024 Standardbred Horse Sale also.

"This filly is nicely balanced and athletic looking," Murphy said.

HIP 88 Live Long Hanover is a full sister to Horse of the Year contender Super Chapter.

Another Chapter Seven filly Hanover has is HIP 88 Live Long Hanover, and she should be very attractive as both a racehorse and a broodmare prospect given that she's a full sister to multiple-time stakes winner and Horse of the Year contender Super Chapter.

"She is a large-built filly and reminds me of her mother Lifetime Pursuit, standing 15.2h," Murphy remarked about Live Long Hanover.

A trotting colt that Hanover will sell on Monday that Murphy noted has been in demand to see at the farm thus far is HIP 96 Mr Sean Hanover, who is by Captain Corey.

"He will knock your socks off. He has a powerful conformation - wide chest, good neck, shoulder and barrel and a muscular rear end that I love," she stated. "He's the best-looking foal from M Diddy so far and has been getting a lot of lookers at the farm."

Switching over to the pacing side, Hanover has the likes of HIP 138 Suella Hanover, a sister to a pair of fast males in Pebble Beach and Sea Bistro Hanover.

"I'm in love with this cross," Murphy said. "Stay Hungry with the Western Ideal mares make solid-built horses that are extremely sharp-looking."

HIP 138 Suella Hanover is "sharp-looking" and a favorite of Hanover Shoe Farms' Patti Murphy.

SECOND-TIME AROUND FOR ALLIANCE BLOODSTOCK IN HARRISBURG

Alliance Bloodstock debuted at the yearling sales in 2025, and after a strong presence at Lexington, are back with more offerings this year for clients such as Ontario's Princeton Farms.

"Princeton Farms is operated by Jesse Belore and his wife, Katie. They've got deep roots in the sport up there and they have excellent taste in stallions and maternal families," Alliance's Shaun Laungani said. "We started working with them several years ago on the stallion side. They became a big stallion client of ours because they were interested in breeding to horses like Sweet Lou and Downbytheseaside. Then, they were looking for a change in representation last year, so we worked with them and they had a pretty solid sale.

"They've done tons of bloodstock investments, so it's just kind of cycling through to reality now. Their stock last year went on to race quite well. They had horses like Seine, the Sweet Lou colt for Joe Bongiorno that just won the Kindergarten and was good in Kentucky, Rumble And Sway was really good in Kentucky. They've got Major Contender, a trotter, doing well up in Ontario. So, they've got some momentum, and I think they really proved this year that you can spend on a yearling from Princeton and you can get some powerful results."

Their list of individuals begins with HIP 95 Queen Contender, a King Of The North filly. As mentioned by Laungani, Queen Contender's full sister Major Contender was one of the top 2-year-old trotting fillies in Ontario in 2025, earning $192,829 and winning not only multiple times in the Sire Stakes program but also against Grand Circuit company in a division of the Champlain.

"They're excited about her. I think King Of The North has done enough and this being a full sibling, this will be a very similar individual," Laungani said. "I think it's something where not only the folks that own her, but anybody that appreciates her is going to appreciate this one too."

HIP 99 Sevenfold is by the red-hot Chapter Seven, who was the leading sire at Lexington and is the second foal out of Mermeith S, a full sister to $1,181,980 earner and now top Ontario-based stallion Green Manalishi S.

"This is a beautiful dam and a beautiful pedigree, " remarked Laungani. "This Chapter Seven colt is the right-looking type. I would expect that he'd be very well-received and do quite well in the ring."

For pacers, Alliance has the likes of HIP 126 Sweet Beach Lou and HIP 177 Chanel. Sweet Beach Lou is out of the Somebeachsomewhere mare Perfectbeachday, a sister to two six-figure earners led by Big McDeal at $817,770, and what will immediately jump off the page about Chanel is that she is the first foal out of Twin B Roulette, a half-sister to Twin B Joe Fresh. Chanel is also from the highly-anticipated first crop of Confederate.

"Hillside Farms raises an exceptional physical specimen, and this horse has got a great video," Laungani said about Sweet Beach Lou. "It'll be something that if you're looking at Sweet Lou colts, you need to come see him. He's going to be a man among boys, most likely, out there."

In regards to Chanel, Laugani offered, "Twin B Joe Fresh is just a revelation. What she did again in the Breeders Crown, obviously it's no surprise to anybody, but what you have here is you have a very similar-built filly. Twin B Joe Fresh's known for almost looking like a colt and having a big rear end and a big shoulder, and that's what this filly has.

"I think because the dam of Twin B Joe Fresh has had reproductive problems, the market hasn't really seen a whole lot of yearlings closely related to her, so this'll be fun, and she's easily got the prettiest head of any of the Princeton horses and maybe our whole consignment."

HUNTERTON SALES AGENCY LOOKS TO BUILD ON LEXINGTON SUCCESS

Steve and Cindy Stewart's Hunterton Sales Agency was the top consignor again this year at Lexington, but kept some attractive-looking prospects in their holster to bring to Harrisburg.

First up on their list of individuals to examine is HIP 36 Social Animal, a filly from the first crop of New York-based sire Cannibal. Social Animal is the second foal out of Lioness By The Sea, a young Downbytheseaisde mare who is a sister to $787,211 earner Queen Of The Pride.

HIP 59 Quasar, a filly, is another one by a first-crop sire in Tactical Approach. Quasar is the first foal out of the Triumphant Caviar mare Gabby's C Note, who earned $652,543 during her career and has three siblings who also made it into six figures.

Tactical Landing had the Breeders Crown winner in the 2-year-old colt division this year with the outstanding Wrong Sounds Right, and Hunterton has a colt by Tactical Landing on Monday in HIP 90 Hitchcock. Hitchcock is out of the Father Patrick mare Devilish Delight, making him a brother to $407,928 earner Devilish Hill and to $161,125-earning 2-year-old filly Rio De Janeiro, who has been battling the likes of the undefeated Wall Of Fame in the New Jersey stakes this year.

Finally, HIP 92 Lovelorn is a colt from the initial crop of Volume Eight and a brother to Endurance, who unfortunately suffered an injury in this year's Hambletonian final and wound up having to be retired. Prior to that he was one of the top horses in the division and a multi-time stakes winner at both 2 and 3. Volume Eight stands at Hanover Shoe Farms, and Murphy offered some thoughts on what to expect from his horses.

"I think people will find that he stamps his features on his progeny," she noted. "They are racy-looking, much like the Chapter Sevens. He throws a decent rear end on them with fairly correct conformation. They have been overall nicely-sized, and I believe they will do well in Pennsylvania."

WINBAK FARM HAS SOMETHING FOR EVERYONE IN HARRISBURG

If there's a sale, Winbak Farm is likely there, and Harrisburg is no different as they bring a contingent by a variety of sires.

Everybody is looking for Chapter Seven fillies, both as racing and broodmare prospects, and Winbak has one on Monday in HIP 40 Seven Dances. Seven Dances is out of the Donato Hanover mare Donna's Dance, who is a half-sister to $1,585,741 earner and world champion Wild Honey.

HIP 63 Oopsjoediditagain is a Sweet Lou colt and is the first foal out of Ginger Tree Coco, a Stay Hungry mare who banked $135,031 and had a 2-year-old mark of 1:52 3/5. Ginger Tree Coco is also a sibling to a number of six-figure earners, led by Line Em Up at $347,805.

VIDEO SCREEN SHOTS

(above) HIP 177 Chanel, from the Alliance Bloodstock consignment, is from the first crop of Confederate and has a beautiful stride. (below) HIP 40 Seven Dances from Winbak Farm is a Chapter Seven-sired filly from the family of $1.5 million winner Wild Honey.

Bulldog Hanover had a big year with the likes of Redland Rocket Man and Jersey Bulldog, and WInbak has a pair by him to check out in HIPs 66 Redlandshananagins and HIP 74 Lighting Fast. Redlandshananagins, who Winbak is selling as agent, is a full brother to the already-mentioned Redland Rocket Man, while Lighting Fast is out of the Artiscape mare Hypnotize. Hypnotize earned $374,152 during her time on the track and has produced a number of successful horses, topped by Blank Stare ($750,634).

OTHERS TO WATCH

Here are 10 more yearlings from various consignors throughout Monday's opening session:

HIP 34 Make It Lass is a Volume Eight filly offered by Anvil And Lace Farm and is out of the Muscle Mass mare Deal Wise As It. Deal Wise As It is a half-sister to international superstar Vivid Wise As It, whose vast list of stakes successes includes the 2023 MGM Yonkers International Trot.

From the consignment of Peninsula Farm is HIP 38 Caviart Destiny. A filly from the initial crop of Confederate, Caviart Destiny's dam Caviart Davia banked $148,743 during her career to go with a mark of 1:49 2/5 and is a sister to pair of millionaires in Stay Hungry and Treacherous Dragon.

Concord Stud Farm is annually the leader or near the top of the rankings in Harrisburg, and they have the likes of HIP 65 Pure Vision, a Back Of The Neck filly who is the first foal out of a half-sister to Breeders Crown 3-Year-Old Filly Trot and Hambletonian Oaks champion Nezuko Kamado S.

COURTESY KOUNTRY LANE STANDARDBREDS

HIP 75 Kountry Cathy is a daughter of Tactical Approach from Kountry Lane Standardbreds.

Kountry Lane Standardbreds had the highest-priced seller in Lexington, and they are in Harrisburg as well with yearlings like HIP 75 Kountry Cathy, a daughter of Tactical Approach who is the second foal out of Cash Infusion, a Chapter Seven mare who earned $260,682 and had a mark of 1:51 4/5. Cash Infusion's full sister Swinging Royalty is a successful broodmare with a number of six-figure horses, led by near millionaire Ahundreddollarbill.

Ontario-based Dean and Ashley Wilson's offerings in Harrisburg include HIP 82 Seaside Dancer, an Ohio-eligible by top stallion Downbytheseaside. Seaside Dancer is the second foal out of Kendall Seelster, a daughter of Shadow Play with earnings of $951,651 and a mark of 1:49 4/5. Kendall Seelster is also a half-sister to millionaire Karma Seelster.

Right after Seaside Dancer exits the ring will come HIP 83 Hill Hayley, a daughter of Muscle Hill. Consigned by Fox Den Farm as agent, Hill Hayley is the first foal out of Kenziesky Hanover, a successful Cantab Hall mare who banked $645,627 and took a mark of 1:51.4 during her career which spanned from ages 3 through 8.

As mentioned earlier, Tactical Landing had likely Dan Patch Award recipient Wrong Sounds Right this year, and agent Preferred Equine Marketing, Inc., will sell a Tactical Landing colt in HIP 107 Solar Approach. Solar Approach is the first foal out of a full sister to Sarcy, who is the dam of a pair of millionaires in Tactical Approach and also the dual-continent star Double Deceiver.

Twinbrook Farms is another Ontario operation that has horses at Harrisburg, and they will sell HIP 129 Mufasa, a colt by Green Manalishi S. Mufasa's filly sister Monalishi has earnings of $747,413, a mark of 1:51 2/5 and multiple stakes wins, including the Peaceful Way as a freshman and the Ontario Sires Stakes Gold Super Final as a sophomore.

HIP 162 Worldly Power is a yearling consigned by Blue Chip Farms LLC as agent. Worldly Power is the initial foal out of $221,976 earner Sweet Treasure, a daughter of Sweet Lou. Sweet Treasure is a sister to six-figure earners like Mikala and under the third dam you see triple millionaire and leading sire Captaintreacherous.

Last, but certainly not least, is HIP 180 Peachville, a filly by leading sire Huntsville. Peachville, offered by Weaver Standardbred Farm, shows real power under the third dam Bj's Squall as she would produce harness racing's all-time fastest horse and now noted sire Bulldog Hanover.

The Standardbred Horse Sale is a five-day event at the Pennsylvania Farm Show Complex and Expo Center, with yearlings offered Monday, November 2 through Wednesday, November 4. The action then switches to a two-day mixed sale on Thursday, November 5 and Friday, November 6. The sale starts at 12 noon (EST) on Monday, followed by 10 A.M. on Tuesday and Wednesday and 11 A.M. on Thursday and Friday.

Shaffer Equine makes a debut of sorts at Harrisburg this year

By Derick Giwner

To say that there is a new kid on the block at the Standardbred Horse Sale in Harrisburg would only be half true of Shaffer Equine LLC. The farm has been in existence and selling yearlings for three decades but 2026 will mark the first time they will be listed as consignors.

In addition to 12 homebreds, Shaffer will sell 22 yearlings as agent for a small handful of clients. Previously Shaffer used Anvil And Lace or Midland Acres to sell their stock.

Located on the southwest corner of Pennsylvania near the West Virginia border, Shaffer Standardbreds has been involved in mare and yearling services since 1994. It is just a three-hour ship to Harrisburg and that along with the expansion of their broodmare band is what spurred the decision to get into the consignor arena.

"We've been in business for a long time but not to this scale. We definitely grew over the past couple of years. And this year, going forward, we just started to get too many mares and yearlings, so we decided to start taking our own consignment to Harrisburg," said Jacob Shaffer, who runs the operation with his brother Kolt and grandfather Alan. "My dad [Wayne] passed away almost two years ago, but it's pretty much still all just family. We have a couple outside employees but it's family owned and pretty much family ran."

For Shaffer and family, the decision to consign really doesn't change much other than dealing with the logistics of staffing. They were already breaking their yearlings and prepping for the sale.

"We got a bunch of staff hired for Harrisburg, which we kind of got lucky. We got some really good people coming to help work the sale with us from other farms and stuff like that. It takes an army, that's for sure," said Shaffer.

When asked about his 34 yearlings at the sale, Shaffer was quick to point to a couple of his clients' horses before offering up one of his own that stood out. You could sense that he is a straight shooter without a hidden agenda.

The first Shaffer horse sells on day two at Harrisburg when HIPs 185 to 595 will go through the ring. Exactly half (17) of their consignment sells on that Tuesday, with HIP 269 Caribbean Coast one of the highlights according to the proprietor.

Owned and raised by Paul Hershberger, Caribbean Coast is a Pennsylvania eligible daughter of Costa Rica ($1.3 million) and just the second foal from that mare. Adding to the intrigue is that the black filly is by Captain Corey.

"She came here for a little while. [Hershberger] was actually moving places and asked us to take her. So we had her for two months or something. So I was around her then and got to watch her in the field and stuff like that," said Shaffer. "I think she reaches really far for a medium-sized horse like her, and she's really clean-legged and straight. I think her gait really is something you really want to grasp onto."

A few numbers later at HIP 273 comes Lillit Grace, a filly Shaffer sells for Pleasant Hill Farm and Patrick J. Hoopes. This one is just the third foal from Credit For Gab and comes with an interesting stallion change from Newtown Cheetah and Greenshoe to first-cropper Volume Eight.

"The dam is a sister to Branded By Lindy ($561K). She's a pretty exciting filly," said Shaffer of the dual eligible Pennsylvania and Kentucky lady.

For Shaffer, he's very interested to see how the Volume Eight and Tactical Approach yearlings sell as they represent a third of his consignment.

"We have six Volume Eight's, and I think we have five first-crop Tactical Approach's as well. They're completely different build horses. The Volume Eights are maybe a hair finer-bound, like more racy looking. They resemble Chapter Seven for sure. The Tactical Approach ones we have, they're really big, muscular-looking horses and athletic," said Shaffer.

The one homebred Shaffer was fast to highlight is HIP 478 Karats Are Divine. Another by Captain Corey, Shaffer is hoping that the stallion switch will bring new life to the mare after a couple of lackluster foals from International Moni.

"She's an exceptional individual. I don't think I'd trade her for anything," said Shaffer. "She's big. She's got a little bit of weight on her and has the Captain Corey look. She trots like a Captain Corey."

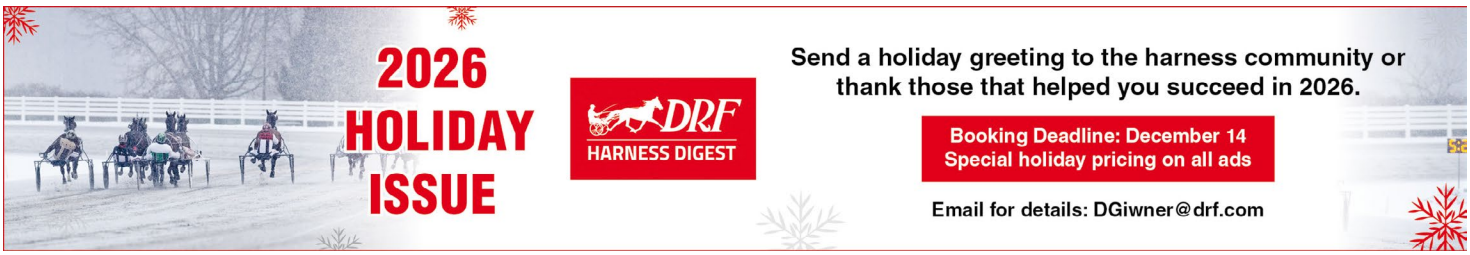

From the family of $778K earner Personal Style, Karats Are Divine has eligibility in both Pennsylvania and Kentucky.

Those who like something a bit out of the ordinary should check out HIP 438 High Volume Caviar. Another from Paul Hershberger, this Pennsylvania eligible daughter of Volume Eight has a very visible white streak on one of her hind legs.

"He got one with a pretty cool marking there to her. She videoed really nice," said Shaffer.

With 24 trotters and 10 pacers, the Shaffer consignment is clearly trotter heavy, but at the same time it is a diverse group with yearlings representing not only Pennsylvania and Kentucky but also Ontario, New York, New Jersey and Ohio. And if you like what they have to offer this year, stay tuned because there is more to come.

"We're going to have a lot more of our own coming up in the years to come," said Shaffer, pointing to the 30 or so mares they currently have on the farm. "I'm sure we'll be dipping our toes into the Mixed sale again as well."

“C”-ing plenty of talent in the ‘26 Standardbred Horse Sale

JAYWALKING

By Jay Bergman 𝕏 BergmanJay

The Standardbred Horse Sale begins on Monday (November 2) with 927 yearlings cataloged to be sold on three consecutive days. Annually the yearling part of the Harrisburg auction is dominated by offspring that were primarily eligible in the Northeast region of the United States as well as Ontario. This year’s roughly 900 that will go on the block are a distinct mix of trotters and pacers sired by stallions residing in Pennsylvania and New York yet expanding eligibility to Kentucky and Massachusetts through dual eligibility.

Unique to this year’s sale is the presence of stallions with monikers starting with the letter “C” covering over 25 percent of the horses entered in the sale. HIP 1 Sensible Shoes, a daughter from the first crop of Cannibal, opens the doors on Monday, and HIP 927 Bernadina Kemp – a daughter of Calgary Games and the lone yearling in the auction by that successful Kentucky-based stallion – completes the sale on Wednesday.

The middle of the three-day yearling auction is where the major power will come from and top pacing stallion Captaintreacherous is likely to garner the most respect with his 36 yearlings up for sale. What’s notable about Somebeachsomewhere’s most successful son in Harrisburg this year is the imbalance between fillies and colts available to the buying public. Only a dozen colts will be on the block and that limitation should help escalate his average purchase price. On the other side is 24 pacing fillies by Captaintreacherous.

If there’s one colt worth looking at from my perspective, it would be HIP 161 selling late on the initial program. C Is For Captain is the aptly titled first foal from C Is For Cookie. Before getting C-sick, one should look closely at the bloodlines here and examine the incredible potential from both stallion and maternal lines. C Is For Cookie was a 1:50 performer by Betting Line that earned $200,000 on the racetrack as a sophomore. She also happens to be a half-sister to the $6 million winning brother tandem of Sweet Lou and Bettor Sweet, with the former now a dominant stallion throughout North America. C Is For Captain is the dam’s first foal and happens to be eligible in Pennsylvania and Kentucky.

On the trotting side there’s no surprise that sons and daughters of Chapter Seven will be among the highest in demand. The New York-based stallion has annually proven his dominance in the Empire State and far beyond with this year’s Horse of the Year contender Super Chapter a vivid example. Unlike his pacing counterpart, Chapter Seven sends out a powerful list of 31 yearlings in the auction more heavily weighted on the male side of the ledger with 18 entered. There’s no surprise that a large number by Chapter Seven are listed among the first day’s 182 cataloged yearlings. That said, expect breeders and stakes-leaning buyers to be inspecting HIP 43 Coffeeshop Hanover long and hard before the filly hits the ring. Coffeeshop Hanover is just the fourth foal from the Father Patrick-sired dam Crucial and that would make her a full sister to the $1.7 million winner Maryland, who captured the 2024 Mohawk Million as well as the Breeders Crown that year. Crucial was bred to Chapter Seven’s son Walner and following Maryland’s success in 2024, had her colt Cambridge Hanover sell for a record $1 million at this auction. Last year her second foal by Walner, a filly named Climatic Hanover, sold for $725,000 and has already proven to be somewhat of a bargain capturing the Grade 2 Kentuckiana Stallion event at Hoosier Park in 1:52 2/5 in September and finishing a respectable fourth in the Breeders Crown final. To purchase this near-perfectly brewed Coffeeshop Hanover may require 10,000 C-Notes or more.

VIDEO SCREEN SHOT

HIP 161 C Is For Captain is a Captaintreacherous colt from Concord Stud Farm that comes from the family of Hall of Famer Sweet Lou and double millionaire Bettor Sweet.

First-crop stallions tend to get the most eyeballs from bidders looking to find gold from a new bloodstream and there should be plenty of opportunity at Harrisburg with 32 yearlings on display by the 2023 Horse of the Year Confederate. The son of Sweet Lou got off to a flying start at the Lexington Sale this year and the depth of quality in his yearling crop will be on full display in Harrisburg with 19 colts and 13 fillies cataloged. Those looking for sons or daughters from Confederate should arrive early on Monday and not be late to the auction ring with HIP 6, a filly named PA Caitlyn, likely to move through in the first 15 minutes (Sale listed to start at noon). PA Caitlyn is the first foal from Alexas Fantasy, a Lazurus N-sired half-sister to North America Cup champion Nijinsky. Second dam Pirouette Hanover, a $608K winner herself, produced four sub-1:50 performers, with the $705K winner Alexa Skye a 36-time career winner.

The face of New York's pacing front could be changing dramatically in 2027 with the arrivals from the first crop of Cannibal. Those wishing to be part of the New York Sire Stakes program are compelled to inspect the 38 yearlings offered at Harrisburg thoroughly. On Monday's opening day program, HIP 53, a filly cleverly named Byte, has the look and the blood of a potential champion. From the 100 percent producing dam Fiery Beauty, a daughter of Somebeachsomewhere, Byte is the first foal from the mare sired by a Sweet Lou line stallion. Her second dam, the $893K winner Swinging Beauty, is the dam of millionaires Swingtown and Whichwaytothebeach as well as Little Brown Jug champion Captain Barbossa. It may be tough to find a better-bred pacing filly than Byte with eligibility in New York as well as the New Jersey Standardbred Development Fund.

HIP 96 Mr Sean Hanover is a Captain Corey from the family of Maven.

Double "C" Captain Corey will be well represented with 47 from his third crop selling at Harrisburg. Off to a fast start in the breeding shed, Captain Corey's filly Birr Castle gave him his first Breeders Crown champion as she captured the 2-year-old title at Scioto Downs on October 23. Could HIP 96 Mr Sean Hanover have the talent that Birr Castle displayed this year? That may be something worth pursuing as the colt is just the third foal from a daughter of the $2 million winner Maven.

Yearlings by Cantab Hall, Captain Crunch, Cattlewash, Courtly Choice and Crazy Wow are also must "C" at this year's Standardbred yearling sale in Harrisburg.

Winning Key with a good-looking dozen for Harrisburg

CONFESSIONS

By Keith Gisser

Located between Kittanning and Butler in Western Pennsylvania, Winning Key Farm, under owner Robert Key, always had a reputation for breeding and racing a great group of pacers and trotters. Among the most notable were Hambletonian champ American Winner and Pennsylvania Horse of the Year Winning Mister. When Key passed away in 2021 at 87 after four decades in the business, his wife Patty took over the reins (okay, lines for you Standardbred purists) and changed that focus just a bit.

In the five years since Bob's passing, Patty Key has continued to support the sport, with Winning Key Farm being the title sponsor of The Hambletonian. She also spent an eye-popping $750,000 to purchase a share of trotting stallion Walner in 2022.

"It's all about Bob's legacy," she said in an interview after the Walner acquisition. "I wanted to make sure that he lives forever in the harness racing business. It's very emotional for me. I know he'd be very happy with what I'm doing because this is my dream and that's what I'm focusing on right now."

Winning Key continues to focus on homebreds and cultivating their maternal families, but the farm started selling more at auctions, particularly at Harrisburg. The farm also culled a large number of mares looking to upgrade the broodmare band, something that has led to great success, with the focus moving to selling at least some of those offspring.

According to farm co-manager Samantha Werksman-Cricket (her husband Eric is her partner): "We just began selling horses in 2021. Diamond Creek prepped them for us. But we were boarding several at Anvil And Lace Farm and we developed that relationship and have worked with them ever since. Patty jumped in with both feet. We didn't really change what we were doing. We always focused on quality over quantity."

Shaun Laungani of Diamond Creek Farm actually oversaw a major renovation of the farm and in the years since, Winning Key has produced exceptional yearlings. 2026 is no different.

Werksman - Crocket, who started with Winning Key in 1999 and has been there ever since, is especially proud of this year's Harrisburg consignment.

"I'm a Winning Key lifer," she joked, recalling that she began as a part-timer while still in school.

Winning Key sold three yearlings at Lexington, but from its base in the Keystone State, Harrisburg is the focus. They are selling six yearlings on day one and six more later in the sale. The day one group is as impressive on video as they are on pedigree. But how do you decide where to sell?

"It depends on lots of things – we were looking for standouts – both physical and pedigree. Some sires might be more popular at one or the other. That being said, the ones we chose for Harrisburg, I think they will do very well," said Werksman – Crocket.

The first Winning Key yearling is the only colt on the first day. HIP 12 Route Seven is a Chapter Seven who is a half-brother to Avenzee, who was somewhat successful in Kentucky this year as a 3-year-old. A late February foal, his Muscle Hill dam Avenir was a decent racehorse and hails from a maternal family with an excellent production record. I loved his video, too.

HIP 34 Make It Lass is a January filly by Volume Eight who is Kentucky and Pennsylvania eligible. Her dam is a Muscle Mass sister to Vivid Wise As, who earned nearly $4,000,000 racing in Europe. She is the second foal of her dam Deal Wise As. If you are not familiar with Volume Eight (I admit, I wasn't), he is a Chapter Seven who was a Dan Patch winner at age 2. He stands at Hanover and this is his first crop. He was a Key homebred during his racing career.

Patty Key is continuing her late husband Bob's passion for breeding but upping the ante at the same time.

Book A Spa Day, HIP 73, is a full sister to multiple Dan Patch Award winner and three-time millionaire Jiggy Jog S, sired by Walner. Her dam Hot Mess Hanover is a 100% producer and Winning Key purchased her in foal with this filly. She is another one whose video I liked and what's not to like about Walner?

HIP 84 Holy Mackerella (Patty Key names all the foals, although her farm managers occasionally make suggestions) is from the Muscle Hill family. "[She] is a real nice filly. She is from a Cantab Hall mare and her brother, who was raced lightly at 2, is now racing and has had some success," said Werksman-Crocker.

Next into the ring for Winning Key will be HIP 125 Summer Falls. Sired by Captain Corey and from their homebred Conway Hall mare Perfect Summer K, she is a full sister to Grade 1 Doherty winner Atlantic Summer. Summer Falls is a January foal and her mom is a 100% producer.

The last Day One filly is Bewitchery, who will wear HIP 148. A January filly by Tactical Landing, she is a looker and I liked her video a lot. Her dam, She Must Be Magic, is a half-sister to Win Missy B, who banked almost $1.6 million in her career. Further down the pedigree you'll find world champions, as well.

Later in the sale, Winning Key will be represented by HIP 527 Cross Bones, a Sweet Lou colt; #549 Sweeping Beauty, a Tactical Approach filly; #551 Oodles of Eights, by their stallion Volume Eight; #559 Rein Over Terror, another Sweet Lou colt (those three will keep Samantha busy); #570 Norse Man, a King of the North colt; and #618 Tickle Lillies, by Back of the Neck.

The Winning Key Farm dozen is impressive on all fronts – good looking, well-bred and looking good on video. Anyone would be lucky to walk away with one.

I'll be back next week to look at the Mixed portion of the Harrisburg Sale. There will be plenty of opportunities to "go cash" there.

Recapping the Breeders Crown & my first trip to Scioto Downs

Attending the Breeders Crown is always special and I've had the privilege to see the best horses in Harness Racing compete live almost every year for the last two decades. With this year came a special treat of adding Scioto Downs to the list of 50-something tracks I've visited over the years, and it didn't disappoint.

Boiling Scioto down to one word it would be "character". Unlike many of the newer facilities to open or be redesigned in the last handful of years, Scioto has that traditional racetrack feel with some of the best fan sightlines. My preference was standing at the front of the raised grandstand (where I watched the majority of Breeders Crown races) where you could perfectly see all of the action. But standing on the rail is a good spot as is up in one of the luxury boxes (many thanks to the OHHA for the invite). There is more to say on the design and the place in general, but first let's pivot to some Breeders Crown thoughts as the track was hosting all 12 races for the first time in its history.

Ohio deserved this Breeders Crown, just as Kentucky has earned the right to host in 2027 at The Red Mile. Both states have made serious investments in the sport over the last five to 10 years that warranted recognition by the industry and the spotlight which the Crown shines on those programs and states. It is no different than the Super Bowl showing up in a city because they built a new stadium or the Breeders' Cup going back to New York because of the new facility at Belmont Park.

I'm putting all of the above in print because I'm tired of the keyboard warriors who weren't in attendance providing commentary about an event when they weren't there to absorb the true importance of the card in person. Yes, having large handle is nice and no one wants to see it more than me, but it is hardly the measure of a successful event in the current environment where purses are propped up by alternative gaming sources.

Of far more significant importance was that people turned out in large numbers, especially on Saturday night when the grandstand was full for the first race. Outside of the Little Brown Jug Day, you'd be hard-pressed to find a crowded track for race one, and that certainly hasn't occurred in my memory on a Breeders Crown card. Also packed with people was the edge of the track apron, which for each race was lined with people from halfway down the stretch into the first turn.

I'll always remember the cheers from the crowd after Twin B Joe Fresh returned to the winner's circle following her brave first-over victory in 1:48 1/5 to capture the Mare Pace and the roar that erupted when Women Layer and Best Chip tripped the timer in 1:19 4/5 at the three-quarters in the Crown Open Pace. It brought back memories of the night when Bulldog Hanover raced at Dayton Raceway and the Ohio faithful stuck around until midnight to be part of the experience.

For the record, handle on the two Breeders Crown cards at Scioto Downs was approximately $3 million, about half of what it was the previous year at Woodbine Mohawk Park. That's not exactly shocking when you consider that Scioto rarely comes close to eclipsing the million-dollar mark on a single program. My goal was $3.6 million. The track was looking for a little over $3 million, so the final results were quite reasonable.

Diamond Creek releases location updates for stallions

Today (Oct. 28) Diamond Creek Farm announced several stallion location updates for the 2027 breeding season, providing breeders and shareholders with important information ahead of the upcoming Harrisburg Sale.

Sweet Lou will stand at Lindwood Farm in Greensburg, Pennsylvania for the 2027 season. Diamond Creek is particularly pleased to keep the accomplished sire in Pennsylvania, where he has established an exceptional legacy and continues to be an important part of the state's breeding program.

Additionally, multiple Breeders Crown-winning sire Downbytheseaside will remain in Ohio, relocating to Winterwood Farm, while the upstart first-year stallion Pebble Beach will also remain in Ohio, standing at Midland Acres for the 2027 season.

"We are excited about these new partnerships and grateful for the opportunity to keep these stallions in their respective states," said President Adam Bowden. "Our priority has been to find the right homes for our stallions while providing stability and continuity for our breeders and shareholders."

Diamond Creek is committed to communicating these updates ahead of the Harrisburg Sale to allow breeders, shareholders, and prospective buyers to make informed decisions for the upcoming breeding season.

Additional details, including 2027 stud fees, will be announced in the coming weeks.

The rail at Scioto Downs was packed with people on Saturday night to watch the Breeders Crown races.

In the end, what was really lost by the lower handle? The pools were big enough for almost anyone to dip their toes, so that wasn't an issue. There was a loss of about $90,000 in off track handle ($3,000,000 x .03 simulcast fee), but that is somewhat negligible versus the $900,000 cost of hosting the Crown. It is also offset by the increased on-track numbers, which were more than double at over $120,000. And of course you have the revenue made from merchandise, food and beverage. I can attest that sales of merch were hot, with many of the hats and sweatshirts selling out to the Ohio crowd that was thrilled to be in attendance.

While in some ways I understand the bickering over the handle issue, the complaints about the five-eighth track size and the quality of racing at Scioto Downs during the Breeders Crown races is mindboggling. What are people looking for or expected?

Factually, from the eight races on Saturday only one horse was able to win on the lead (Brandon Blvd – more on him later). Eight of the 24 horses to finish in the top three came from posts six or outside, debunking the myth that those horses can't compete. Three of those horses even won. Additionally, the races had plenty of action and were exciting to watch. There was very little "fishing for cover" by drivers who instead were aggressive when the situation called for it. In other words, the races were entertaining!

To my eyes the Breeders Crown was a great success at Scioto Downs. The paddock is fabulous – bright, spacious and warm and trackman Dan Coon did a great job having the track in shape despite the surface seeing no racing action for over a month.

Were there things that could be better? Sure. Director of Racing Jason Roth said as much in a Facebook post earlier in the week. Let's remember that Scioto Downs has never hosted an event of this magnitude and has a small staff compared to other locations. All things considered they did an excellent job and will now be well-prepared to hopefully host again in the years to come. I know I'm looking forward to it.

BREEDERS CROWN NOTEBOOK

I spoke to one top driver who admitted to me that Dexter Dunn, who won five Crown races on the weekend and extended his earnings lead to about $2 million, is simply better than everyone else. "He's the total package." By that he meant he can make quick on-track tactical decisions, gets the most out of his horses, and doesn't need to ask his horses for much to get them to top speed. It is hard to disagree with the statement since Dunn is likely already a lock to win his sixth Driver of the Year title.

Beyond all of the great equine performances we saw during the weekend, it really stood out for me how many spectacular drives were put in by the Breeders Crown group. Singling out one, there was Andrew McCarthy behind Miss Jum Jabber. McCarthy made the great decision to settle Miss Jum Jabber down in fifth after leaving hard rather than chasing Hope Hill on the rim off the first turn and down the stretch the first time. That allowed him to pick up live cover from contender Whoomp and set him up perfectly behind cover to win the 3-Year-Old Filly Pace. There is no chance she would've won without that swift move by Andrew. Typically the public hypes up a driver performance when they simply got lucky, sat off a hot pace and things worked out. McCarthy made his own luck and the end result was success.

Beyond the great performances by horses like Twin B Joe Fresh and Wrong Sounds Right, among others, it was the super uncovered mile from Breeders Crown Open Trot winner On To Norway and lackluster effort by Super Chapter which was the story of the night. Why? Because it certainly will shake up the voting for Horse of the Year as well as Older Trotter of the Year. Super Chapter fell more than $300,000 behind earnings leader Brandon Blvd, who likely went out a winner for 2026 with his win in the Crown 3-Year-Old Colt and Gelding Pace. Brandon Blvd also has a slightly better win percentage. On top of that, On To Norway has now beaten Super Chapter in three of four common starts, even though Super Chapter leads him in Grade 1 wins three to two. This race could get interesting and much will be decided if they both race in the FanDuel championship at The Meadowlands on November 14.

Speaking of new leaders, does the victory by Dandy Ideal in the Breeders Crown Open Pace move him into the top spot for a Dan Patch Award? The earnings battle in that category is tight, with three horses – Prince Hal Hanover, Dandy Ideal and Best Chip – separated by less than $100,000. Only Prince Hal Hanover is eligible to the FanDuel. Normally the Breeders Crown winner could get an invite but Dandy Ideal is from connections that typically aren't permitted to race at The Meadowlands, though maybe an exception would be made since former trainer Hunter Oakes handed the horse over to Brett Pelling a few starts back. According to Oakes, he asks Pelling for advice all the time and while having a conversation at The Red Mile he decided to see if Brett could get more out of the horse. The 4-year-old had a minor injury and didn't get to make a start for Pelling at Red Mile and it was up in the air whether they would pay to enter the Breeders Crown. Luckily Pelling worked his magic and got him right in time.

Away from the crowd and up in the announcers booth I couldn't help but notice that Barry Vicroy had a large white board in his room with all of the track and world records listed. That was a great idea by him and something that every announcer should have on hand.

Pondering the final sale price for Beau Jangles on Friday

By Derick Giwner

Speculation is fun and we have a full week to ponder what the prices will be on some big-ticket horses slated to sell on Friday in Harrisburg at the Standardbred Horse Sale. Of course, the "big dog" in the sale is former Horse of the Year Beau Jangles and the chatter on social media is at a fever pitch as people weigh in on his potential selling price.

The CYA Racing Podcast Facebook account posted "How much will BEAU JANGLES sell for?" on the morning of October 27 and 28 hours later there were 132 comments, many from people in the industry. The speculated prices range from a ridiculous bottom of $350,000 to an equally outrageous top of $10,000,000. Reality often lies somewhere in the middle and that seems where it will land in this case.

One of the comments is from horse agent Thomas Svensen, who went more in-depth to write that Beau Jangles (HIP 1602) should stand for at least $7,500 as a stallion and that shares should sell for $27,500-$30,000. With the typical 120 shares sold, that would place his ultimate value at $3,300,000 to $3,600,000. If those numbers are what the market will accept, one can assume Beau Jangles would sell for at least $500,000 below the high end of the range to protect against losses and ensure some profit.

Most breeding-involved people we ran into at the Breeders Crown seemed to land in the $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 range for Beau Jangles' value, which falls in line with the thought process above. The general consensus was that there was no chance anyone would buy the son of Cattlewash to race him as a 4-year-old.

Regardless of the exact final number, it is highly likely that Beau Jangles will become the highest-priced Standardbred to sell at auction. Amazing Catch was sold for $1,850,000 at the same mixed sale in Harrisburg back in 2024 to Greg Luther at the end of his 3-year-old campaign. Somewhat different than will likely happen with Beau Jangles, the thought was to race him as a 4-year-old and then breed. Unfortunately, Amazing Catch raced two years with minimal success and as fate would have it, sells as HIP 1502 on the same Friday session. Prior to Amazing Catch, Hambletonian winner Atlanta owned the record for sales price at $1.55 million. She was sold via the OnGait.com online platform.

Comparing Amazing Catch and Beau Jangles is not fair to either horse. Beyond that one is a trotter and the other a pacer, Beau Jangles was the undisputed leader of his division as a 2-year-old and was ultimately named Horse of the Year on the power of an undefeated 12-for-12 season in 2025. Amazing Catch had three wins in 18 career starts when he was sold.

"There has never been a male reigning Horse of the Year sold at public auction," said Bob Boni, who is consigning the horse through his Northwood Bloodstock and added that he doesn't believe there will be a reserve set. "He is in the sale to be sold."

"It really came out of the blue," continued Boni about the opportunity to consign the horse.

For Boni, the elite talent Beau Jangles displayed at age 2 along with his success as a 3-year-old, including a 1:47 2/5 win (tied for third-fastest this year), set him apart in terms of his breeding possibilities.

"He showed a level of talent [at 2] that none of his peers could duplicate," said Boni. "I've never stood next to him, I've only seen him race, but everyone I've spoken to says he is a remarkable physical specimen. When you have a horse like that, selling via public auction trumps an online sale."

Beau Jangles will be the sale-topper but he won't be the only Standardbred star to go under the hammer on Friday. Breeders Crown winner Miss Jum Jabber (HIP 1375) figures to bring more than the $332,250 she earned capturing the 3-Year-Old Filly Pace final at Scioto Downs on October 24. Victorianas Secret, third in the Breeders Crown 3-Year-Old Filly Trot, could bring substantially more given that she is likely to garner much interest from European buyers. Another interesting prospect for breeders of trotters is Rani Hanover. She famously sold as a yearling for $925,000 at auction but never lived up to that price on the track. As a daughter of Walner and Hambletonian winner Ramona Hill, the bloodlines are certainly there.

That's just a few of the horses in the stacked Friday session that we'll all be watching awaiting that final number on Beau Jangles.

Saying goodbye to Hall of Fame publicist John Manzi

By Derick Giwner

We lost a legend on October 28 when Hall of Famer John Manzi passed away at the age of 82.

To say that John was a character is an understatement. He was one of those larger-than-life people that you knew was in the room. I met him sometime in the late 1990s and he was always gracious with his time and praise for a 20-something harness racing enthusiast who was just beginning his journey in the sport.

While some of it was before my time, John was a maven when it came to publicizing harness racing. His promotions included a best-looking driver contest, having an NFL player run against a horse, a series for ethnic drivers, and so much more. Working with a small budget, he did everything he could to bring attention to harness racing and Monticello Raceway, where he spent much of his career.

John also hosted many races for everyday people. I recall he had "Battle of the Bosses" where racing executives and local business owners would compete in jog carts. And of course there was the Sports Eye Battle of Monticello, where John agreed to host a group of five of us back in 1998. I drove Rasta Hanover and made a four wide move around the final turn to win going away. That moment only increased my love of the sport and spurred me to get my Qualifying & Fair, and eventually my provisional license to drive in real races. Without John, I never would've experienced the thrill of driving in a race.

John had a passion for amateur racing and wrote the releases for it long after he retired from Monticello in 2014. He felt it was the best way to get "new blood" into harness racing.

Of the countless interactions I had with John over the years, the one lasting memory – outside of the cigar smoke which I never enjoyed…lol – will always be his motto, "Never let the truth get in the way of a good story." He meant it tongue-in-check in some respects but it was really a grander vision of doing whatever it takes to promote, promote, promote.

For those that want to read more about John, here is the Q&A I did with him back in 2020.

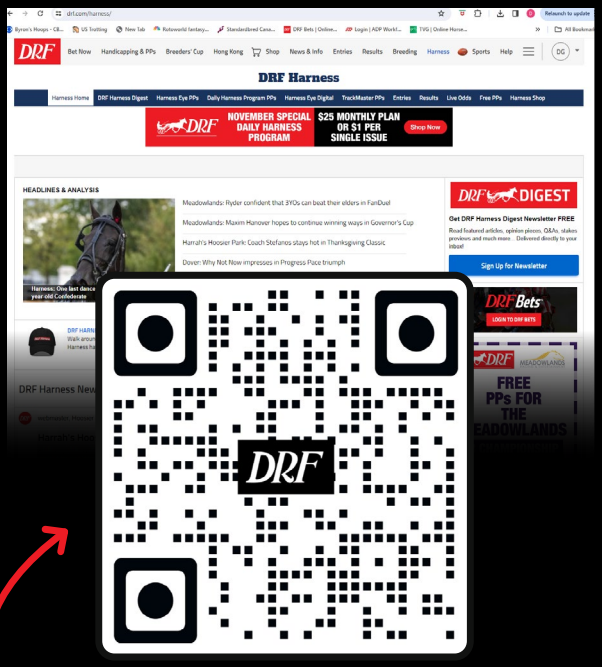

Rest in peace, John.

TACTICAL LANDING is fastest in history to 7 Breeders Crowns

Bob Heyden

In his weekly column in Harness Racing Update, the Statistician to the Stars–Bob "Hollywood" Heyden–said, "Tactical Landing wound up with two siring credits ... and is now at seven," listing that fact as number six on his list of 20 Breeders Crown Takeaways.

The harness racing historian continued by noting that in the history of the sport, "NO SIRE has ever had seven Crown credits FASTER than he. Wrong Sounds Right (2yo Colt Trot) on Night One and Tactical Moni (Mare Trot) Saturday (Oct. 24). With 5 total entrants in 2026 he is now a fabulous 7-19 in [just 5 of the 42 years of] the Breeders Crown!"

WRONG SOUNDS RIGHT (above) had all the right moves in the $700,000 (Grade 1) Breeders Crown final for 2-year-old colt and gelding trotters, setting both world and track records in his 1:51.3f performance.

The Mohawk Million-winner was driven by Todd McCarthy for trainer Jim Campbell and owner-breeder Runthetable Stables (Scott Farber).

TACTICAL MONI (left) handily took the $400,000 (Grade 1) Breeders Crown Mare Trot final in a track record equaling 1:51f.

The 4-year-old mare was driven to victory by Dexter Dunn for trainer Marcus Melander and owner-breeder Moni Maker Stable (Frank Antonacci & David Reid).

TACTICAL LANDING 3,1:50.2 ($812,300).

TACTICAL LANDING will stand at Walnridge Farm of NJ, under the management of the Tactical Landing Syndicate. 2027 Stud Fee: $20,000.

“Burke Brigade” out in full force for Hoosier Friday stakes

by Jay Bergman

Jugette winner Loua Dipa could be making her final career start on Friday.

Trainer Ron Burke is hoping for a rebound of sorts this Friday night as he sends out an arsenal of sophomore pacers in a pair of stake events at Harrah’s Hoosier Park. Burke has half of the 10-horse field entered in the $160,000 Monument Circle for sophomore pacers and four of the 10 fillies set to go in the $125,000 USS Indianapolis Memorial.

The fillies will go first as race 13 on the 14-race program, with Loua Dipa, Burke’s Jugette winner, returning to the track for what could be the last time in her storied career. The homebred by Sweet Lou was the divisional champion as a freshman in 2025, but an attempt to repeat in this year’s Breeders Crown was thwarted when she finished seventh in an elimination race on October 17 at Scioto Downs.

“Me and Ronnie (Wrenn Jr.) usually agree,” said Burke of race strategy. “He thought she would be fine coming from off the pace, and I thought he should have put her in play. Either way she wasn’t at her best.”

Following a pair of post eight draws and disappointing efforts from off the pace, Burke took matters into his own hands with Loua Dipa.

“I got her back and trained her myself the other day and thought she was better,” said Burke of Loua Dipa, who drew post five on Friday in hopes of reasserting her dominance, at least on this part of the sophomore pacing division.

“We’ll see how she races on Friday,” said Burke. “This could be her last race.”

Burke said regardless of the outcome in the USS Indianapolis, Loua Dipa will become a broodmare in 2027.

While Loua Dipa has been struggling, She’s A Bulldog has come on strongly towards the end of the year and finds a solid spot with post four on Friday.

“I think if she gets through, she wins the Breeders Crown,” said Burke with confidence that the daughter of Bulldog Hanover is razor sharp right now.

She’s A Bulldog finished a solid second in her Breeders Crown elimination race but had road trouble in the final, kicking home in 26 1/5 despite not having a clear path.

“She’s really good right now. She got good at the end of the year last year as well,” said Burke, noting that She’s A Bulldog captured last year’s Three Diamonds over stablemate Loua Dipa in her final freshman start.

I’m A Lou Lou (post 2), who is HIP 1373 in the Nov. 6 Mixed Sale at Harrisburg, and Seaside Shuffle (post 10), round out Burke’s foursome in the USS Indianapolis.

Breeders Crown runner-up Whoomp returns to her home track for this contest and the daughter of Rockin Image has been impeccably consistent this year, finishing first or second in all 13 of her races. Whoomp drew post eight for trainer Roger Welch with regular pilot John DeLong in the bike.

Burke has strength in numbers and talent as well in the $160,000 Monument Circle.

“I think Melillo is my best shot,” said Burke, dissecting his quintet of starters. “He got into a bad position in the Breeders Crown and had to do too much of the work. I think he’ll bounce back.”

Melillo had the early lead in the Breeders Crown but would inevitably cede it to stablemate Al Papi. The result of that decision left the Sweet Lou-sired colt in third when eventually race-winner Brandon Blvd took command before the half. Melillo and driver Ronnie Wrenn Jr. were all out trying to clear Brandon Blvd in the third quarter and tired in the homestretch.

Al Papi had the benefit of the pocket in the Breeders Crown but couldn’t track down Brandon Blvd in a swift 1:48 mile. He’ll likely tackle his stablemate for top honors in this field.

“I keep forgetting that post 10 is actually a good draw at Hoosier,” said Burke, reflecting on the spot Al Papi will start from that puts him in the second tier with an option to follow any horse at the outset.

Burke is hoping that Be Sting (post 3) will begin to shine in just his fourth start since joining the stable. The sophomore gelding by Perfect Sting showed enough promise in his first start (a 1:50 3/5 victory at The Red Mile) that he entered the Breeders Crown. Be Sting broke at the start in last Friday’s (October 23) Circle City at Hoosier Park and gets a change of driver this week.

“I think Toddy (McCarthy) will fit him nicely,” said Burke.

Frantic Hanover (post 8) was one of Burke’s best freshmen in 2025, with seven wins in a dozen starts, but this year he’s only won one time in 14 trips to post.

“I think he was very good in his last start,” said Burke of Frantic Hanover. “That Open at The Meadows is a very tough race.”

Frantic Hanover finished a close second in his prep for the Monument Circle on October 23 at The Meadows.

Swiss Lights (post 1) has been a force on the Indiana Sire Stakes circuit this year with seasonal earnings approaching $400K for trainer Jeff Cullipher. The Rockin Image-sired gelding has won half of his 14 starts to date and been on the board in all of them. Most recently, Swiss Lights is riding a two-race win streak that includes a win in the $250,000 Indiana Sire Stakes final on October 9 over this surface.

Trotting fans at Hoosier will get a chance to see Big Ranger in action in the $200,000 Carl Erskine Memorial (race 11). Big Ranger hopes to bounce back from a third-place finish in the Breeders Crown where he was among a multitude of well-backed horses that could not hold on to the lead over a track that appeared to favor closers. Big Ranger should be a heavy favorite in this field of eight from post six for trainer Anette Lorentzon and driver Tim Tetrick.

The $140,000 Crossroads Of America (race 12) looks to be the most competitive of the four Grand Circuit races on Friday, with trainer Nancy Takter’s three sophomore trotting fillies lining up in a row behind the starting car. Leading Lady, Godusa and Madam Cheval (posts 3-5 respectively) have all had their moments this year. Trainer Roger Welch could surprise the Takter-trained girls with For Dayze, a daughter of Swan For All that has only missed the board once in 22 lifetime starts. Dayze drew post eight.

First post for Friday’s Hoosier Park card is 5:30 PM (EDT) and the track will offer a $20,000 Guaranteed pool on the for stakes races that close out the program.

Owners enjoying the ride with Kindergarten starter Aintmyfirstro Deo

By Ken Weingartner

Forget about putting money down on a hunch bet. A hunch buy can prove to be a big winner too.

At least that's been the case with 2-year-old male pacer Aintmyfirstro Deo. A son of Perfect Sting-Some Renditions bred by Deo Volente Farms, Aintmyfirstro Deo was purchased for $27,000 by Hutchison Harness LLC at last year's Lexington Selected Yearling Sale simply because Aneta Hutchison liked the name.

So far this season, the Megan Scran trainee has finished no worse than third in any of his eight races, winning six and earning $204,000. Competing exclusively at the Meadowlands, his victories have included the $180,000 New Jersey Sire Stakes Platinum Series championship and $45,000 Renaissance. He missed by a head from post 9 in the $150,000 New Jersey Classic.

On Saturday (Oct. 31), Aintmyfirstro Deo will face nine rivals in the $125,000 Grade 3 Kindergarten Classic Series final for freshman male pacers at the Big M. He will leave from post 7 with Scott Zeron in the sulky.

"He's been a fun horse," said Dr. Robert Hutchison, Aneta's husband, who races Aintmyfirstro Deo under the Hutchison Harness ownership banner that also includes his son Randy. "He wasn't on our radar (in Lexington). My wife was sitting in the sales ring watching the sale, and Randy and I were out looking at videos and horses, and she texted us and said, 'I really like this horse's name, I think I'm going to buy it.' It's turned out to be a pretty good buy, all because she thought he had a cool name."

The horse's success has been a pleasant surprise, particularly because Aintmyfirstro Deo wasn't the easiest horse to get going during the early stages of his training this past winter.

"Totally unexpected, but it's been exciting, especially with the story behind it," said Dr. Hutchison, a founding member of the Animal Clinic Northview in North Ridgeville, Ohio. "My wife's cousins and sisters all follow the horse, so it has been a really fun ride. He's turned out to be a really nice horse for us."

Said Scran, "He does have a little bit of antics, but he's as easygoing as a horse can come. He looks after himself, is super nice to drive, great gaited, has a really nice mouth – all the qualities you'd want in a racehorse. And obviously, he's pretty fast."

Aintmyfirstro Deo began his career with five consecutive wins, sweeping his three NJSS Platinum prelims and the final before adding a victory in a leg of the Kindergarten series on Aug. 29. He suffered his first defeat in the New Jersey Classic on Sept. 11 but bounced back with his Renaissance triumph on Oct. 17.

He enters the Kindergarten final off a third-place finish behind Seine and Debonaire in last week's fifth preliminary leg, where he started from post 11 in the second tier.

"I thought he raced pretty good the other night having the 11-hole," Dr. Hutchison said. "This (Kindergarten final) is a tough race; there are some really great horses in there. So, this is kind of a test for us to see how he matches up with some of the better horses. We'll see how it goes. Hopefully, it goes well."

The Kindergarten final for 2-year-old male pacers includes world-record-setting Noel Daley trainee Starstruck Dreamer, who last week finished second in the Grade 1 Breeders Crown at Eldorado Scioto Downs. The son of Captaintreacherous-Scarlett Hanover will leave from post 10 with Todd McCarthy in the sulky. Seine, the Kentucky Championship Series runner-up who narrowly missed advancing to the Breeders Crown final, will start from post 5 for trainer-driver Joe Bongiorno.

"I wish (Aintmyfirstro Deo) would have drawn inside just a little bit more, but it helps that Starstruck Dreamer has the 10-hole, even though he's going to be the heavy favorite," Scran said. "This is definitely the toughest competition he's had to face so far. In the New Jersey Sire Stakes races, he was so much the best that he could go the fractions he wanted to go, and now he's learning that he's not going to get everything his own way anymore. But Scott will definitely put him in the right spot to give him the best chance."

Aintmyfirstro Deo is not Hutchison Harness' only success story this season. The stable also shares in the ownership of undefeated 2-year-old filly trotter Wall Of Fame, 3-year-old filly trotter Jailbird Jog, and 3-year-old male pacer Tsunami Seas.

Wall Of Fame won New Jersey Sire Stakes Platinum and Kentucky Championship titles as well as a division of the Grade 3 Bluegrass Stakes; Jailbird Jog captured the inaugural Oak Grove Trotting Oaks and a division of the Grade 2 Del Miller Memorial; and Tsunami Seas was an Ohio Sires Stakes Scarlet champ.

"We've been in the horse business 50-plus years, and we've had good horses over the years, but we've never had a year like this," Dr. Hutchison said. "This has just been unbelievable, one of those dream things. We appreciate it. We're riding the wave as long as it goes."

Racing begins at 6:20 p.m. (EDT) on Saturday at the Meadowlands. The four Kindergarten Classic Series finals for 2-year-old pacers and trotters are races 6-9.

Brandon Blvd moves into top spot of Hambletonian Society/Breeders Crown poll

Six Breeders Crown (G1) winners found themselves among the top eight horses in the Week 20 edition of the Hambletonian Society/Breeders Crown poll released Wednesday (Oct. 28), with a new No. 1 and two returnees to the Top 10 among the group.

After spending six weeks ranked No. 2 behind Super Chapter, Brandon Blvd reclaimed the top spot following his victory in last weekend's Breeders Crown for 3-year-old male pacers. It is Brandon Blvd's third stint at No. 1 – he occupied the position in Weeks 6 through 8 and again in Week 13.

Breeders Crown Open Trot winner On To Norway went from third to second in the poll, nine points ahead of Open Trot seventh-place finisher Super Chapter in third.

Twin B Joe Fresh, who captured the Breeders Crown Mare Pace for the second time in her career, vaulted from seventh to fourth in the rankings. She was followed by Breeders Crown 2-year-old male trotting champ Wrong Sounds Right, who jumped from 10th to fifth.

Wall Of Fame, who was idle, dropped from fourth to sixth and was followed by Breeders Crown winners Nezuko Kamado S (3-year-old filly trot) and Miss Jum Jabber (3-year-old filly pace), who both returned to the Top 10 after recent absences.

Big Ranger and Apex, who were third and sixth, respectively, in the Breeders Crown for 3-year-old male trotters, rounded out the Top 10.

Redland Rocket Man and Shalom Hanover dropped out of the Top 10.

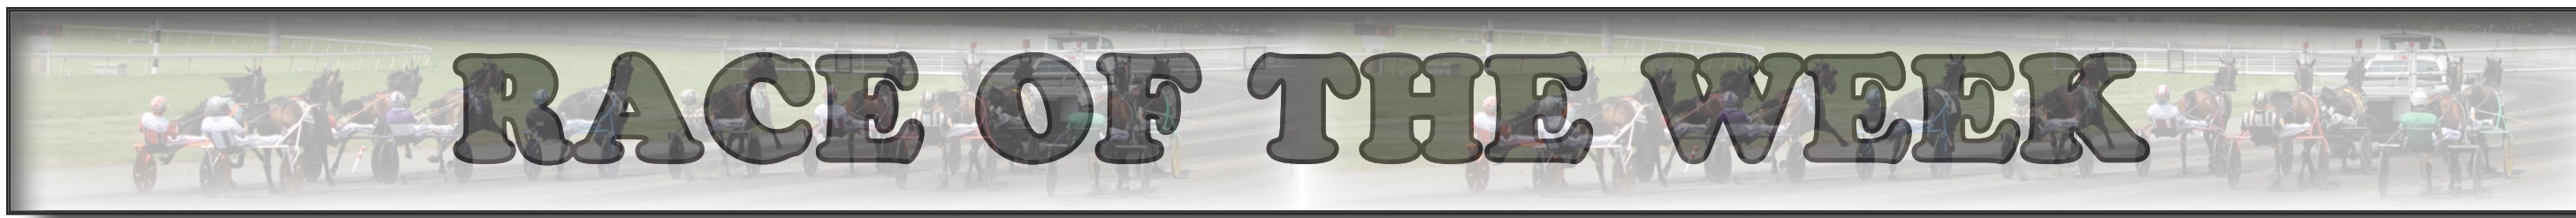

Rankings based on the votes of harness racing media representatives on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis.

Carryovers, Kindergarten highlight Big M weekend

There will be no need for horse players to knock on doors this weekend to get tricks and treats, all they need to do is head to The Meadowlands, where three carryovers will be available Friday (Oct. 30) to satisfy the sweet tooth of any punter before the Kindergarten Series for 2-year-olds, a tasty treat with purses totaling $500,000, takes center stage on Halloween Night, Saturday (Oct. 31).

On Friday, the first race will offer a carryover on the Early 20-cent Pick-5 of $20,891. Last Saturday, after a sequence that saw winner's odds of 7-2, 3-5, 17-1, 84-1 and 22-1, no winning tickets were sold. Those with four correct selections collected $1,741.00.

Carryover No. 2 will come in race three, as the 20-cent Pick-6 will start out with $2,655 up for grabs. Last Saturday, after a sequence that saw winner's odds of 17-1, 84-1, 22-1, 7-1, 1-1 and 2-1, the only players cashing in – for $35.22 – were those with four correct selections.

Finally, the third and final Friday carryover comes in race seven. Last Saturday, the 10-cent Hi-5 (Pentafecta) combination of 5-8-7-1-4 yielded no winning tickets, and after the low 15 percent takeout was removed from the pool of approximately $10,000, a carryover of $8,417 remained.

THE KINDERGARTEN

The series for freshmen of each sex and gait will make up the Early 50-cent Pick-4 on Saturday. Each has a purse of $125,000. Here is a snapshot of horses who are major players:

· Race 6 (Filly Trot): Orinoco stormed home to win the fifth and final leg last Friday as the even-money favorite in 1:54 2/5. The Captain Corey-Bonnie Lou product finished third in her Breeders Crown elimination in the start prior, but was disqualified and placed sixth, costing her a spot in the final.

· Race 7 (Colt and Gelding Pace): The Joe Bongiorno-trained and driven Seine (Sweet Lou-Lock Bridge) was dominant in his Leg 5 score, hitting the wire in a lifetime-best 1:50 4/5 as the 1-5 public choice. He will have his hands full with Starstruck Dreamer (Captaintreacherous-Scarlett Hanover), the Noel Daley trainee who just missed in the Breeders Crown to Blazin Lou.

· Race 8 (Filly Pace): This race shapes up as a great matchup between Miss Dolce (Perfect Sting-Beautiful Candy) and Perfect Body (Perfect Sting-Sweet Body), the winners from last week's two divisions.

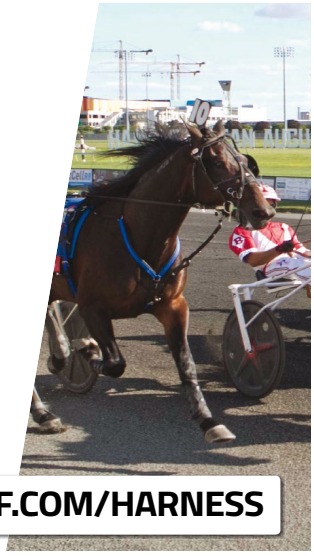

· Race 9 (Colt and Gelding Trot): Obiter Dictum (Tactical Landing-Insolentreusite) was a safe winner in one of two Leg 5 divisions a week ago as the Marcus Melander student was using trotting hobbles for the second time. Melander's Gustav Vasa (Face Time Bourbon-Ms Emily Mariette) pulled off a 12-1 surprise in the other dash.

MAJOR STAKES WINNERS ELIGIBLE TO FANDUEL CHAMPIONSHIPS

With the 2026 Breeders Crown results now in, the focus of the connections of those with horses in contention for year-end honors is drawn to the $1 million FanDuel Championships at the Meadowlands on Saturday, November 14.

The last major stakes of the Grand Circuit season is unique because its format lets the top 3-year-olds in each division test the sport's veteran stars.
