Could it all come down to the FanDuel?

Super Chapter

On To Norway

CONRAD PHOTOS

It's certainly not catchy like the Breeders Crown slogan and it doesn't even rhyme but it may ring true as Trotter of the Year and possibly Horse of the Year could be on the line in the FanDuel Championship for Open trotters

JAYWALKING

By Jay Bergman 𝕏 BergmanJay

While the slogan suggests "It all comes down to the Breeders Crown" the final word in the campaign for Trotter of the Year and perhaps even Horse of the Year could come down to the results this Saturday night. The $300,000 FanDuel Championship for Open Trotters, carded as race five at The Meadowlands, is a virtual match race been two of the most dynamic 4-year-old trotters that sport has seen in the same year in over a generation.

Breeders Crown winner On To Norway may not have danced every dance as they say but he has shown dominance when it mattered most. His epic performance in the Crown on October 24 at Scioto Downs showed that he could take air, race parked the mile, navigate a five-eighths mile track and trot faster than any horse of his generation. International Trot and Maple Leaf Trot Champion Super Chapter seemed invincible for a long stretch of the season, but that dominance came to a grinding halt when put to the test in the Breeders Crown. The two will likely settle the score in Saturday's contest, which is most certain to be the final time they will ever meet, with the stallion Super Chapter arriving at Hanover Shoe Farms next year and the gelding On To Norway likely to return in search of the next chapter to his incredible story.

First, for the record, On To Norway has a distinct advantage in head-to-head matchups with Super Chapter. The two battled epically in July, first in the Graduate Series final on July 4 at The Meadowlands where a deft steer by Yannick Gingras put On To Norway in perfect position to go by Super Chapter in the final strides of a 1:48 3/5 mile, winning by a neck in the process.

The two returned seven days later and the matchup was decidedly different as Gingras put On To Norway on the front end and gamely held off the determined challenge of Super Chapter in the mile and one-eighths Hambletonian Maturity. The added distance was not an impediment to either, with a neck once again the decision maker.

The two rivals parted ways following the races restricted to just 4-year-olds in East Rutherford and that's where Super Chapter went on to garner the most attention, as On To Norway retreated to Indiana where he continued to march to his own drum and do what has come more naturally to him than any other trotter in recent memory. To quote the late Al Davis, "just win, baby."

Super Chapter by that definition had to navigate against many of his elders and was dominant in the process, annexing the Cashman Memorial on Hambletonian Day, then the Maple Leaf Trot, followed by the $1 million MGM International Trot. By the time the Breeders Crown rolled around, those two second-place finishes behind On To Norway became a distant memory and Super Chapter would gain some measure of revenge in capturing the $250,000 Dayton Derby on October 17 in an eye-popping 1:50 2/5 mile that gave an aura of invincibility to his resume heading into the Breeders Crown. The break in stride by On To Norway in the Dayton Derby did not tarnish Super Chapter's victory, but when On To Norway made another rare break in stride six days later in an Indiana Sired event at Hoosier Park (though he would recover to win the race) it appeared to indicate that everything was not going as smoothly as it often had for On To Norway.

Neither horse drew particularly well in the $600,000 Grade 1 Breeders Crown event with On To Norway, now driven by Ronnie Wrenn Jr., starting from post seven and Super Chapter landing post eight. When it came to the wagering, all recollection of On To Norway's dramatic victories at The Meadowlands during the summer had appeared to vanish completely. The betting public saw a white-hot Super Chapter as a near certainty, backing him to 9-10 favoritism despite the outside draw and a few notable speed horses to his inside flank. On To Norway heading into the Crown had only lost twice in his first 14 races, and on both occasions they were over five-eighths mile tracks where he broke in stride. The first came in the Charlie Hill Memorial over the Scioto Downs surface where an early break took him out of the $250,000 contest. He made a massive recovery for driver Yannick Gingras to finish second but Emoticon Legacy's stunning 1:50 2/5 mile made that 4-year-old a more distinct rival to Super Chapter.

Thus, On To Norway went into the Crown as a 13-1 outsider. Obviously, the fact that he had made breaks in three of his last four starts with two of them coming over five-eighths mile tracks had much to do with the public's loss of faith. That said, On To Norway kept his composure and his stride in the Breeders Crown and while others duked it out in a stunningly quick opening half, the 4-year-old by Muscle Massive was rated nicely by Wrenn in the early stages and then went past Super Chapter with ease. That On To Norway also held off Emoticon Legacy late was another feather in his cap and a true testament to why this horse has won 40 of 49 lifetime starts, with 36 wins in his last 40 starts.

Heading into Saturday's contest On To Norway clearly has the edge in overall number of wins as well as head-to-head wins against Super Chapter. On To Norway has six more starts than Super Chapter as well. Super Chapter leads in Grade 1 wins having won the Cashman, International and Maple Leaf, while On To Norway owns two Grade 1 wins with the Breeders Crown and Hambletonian Maturity to his credit.

On Saturday trainer Ron Burke will send On To Norway (post 2) and Lexus Kody (post 7) in the FanDuel Championship. Trainer Marcus Melander has two of his own in the field with Aetos Kronos S (post 1) on the inside track and Super Chapter (post 4) in the middle of the starting car.

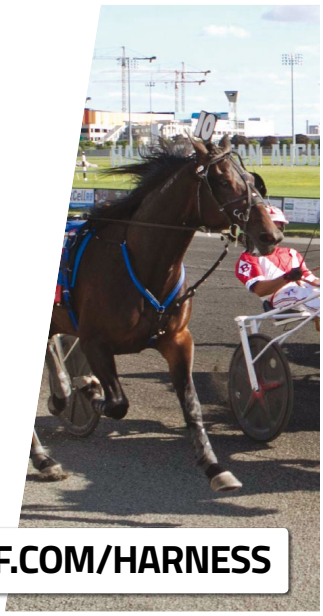

Following his Breeders Crown triumph, On To Norway prepped for the FanDuel final with a win at Hoosier Park in an Open event on November 7. Super Chapter was also in action a week ago winning a qualifying race at The Meadowlands in 1:52 2/5 for driver Dexter Dunn.

Though Saturday's Meadowlands program features a wide array of stakes events it's hard to say any of the other stakes races has as much riding on the outcome as the FanDuel Open Trot.

AT THE TRACK

By Darin Zoccali 𝕏 AtTheTrack7

As we exit the sale season in standardbred racing, the performance pushed against the headwinds of exterior economic factors to produce strong results. Similarly to thoroughbred racing, it continues to be more expensive (on the average) to purchase a yearling with the hope of seeing that filly or colt on the racetrack.

That is somewhat surprising, given the overall landscape of the economy, as ongoing energy and geopolitical market pressures seem to be adversely impacting just about everything else. I am sure that anyone reading this has noticed how much it costs to fill up a tank of gas. They are certainly aware of what their weekly grocery bill looks like compared to what it used to look like and they aren't eating anything more. If you have needed materials or had to have had any work done on your home, you likely have been told about the cost of materials increasing and thus prices for services have gone up as well.

Given all that, it seems surprising that the average price of a yearling at both the Lexington Selected Yearling Sale and the recently concluded Standardbred Horse Sale in Harrisburg rose substantially. Sure, the number of yearlings offered in Lexington dropped quite a bit, but that wasn't the case in Harrisburg, where the number of yearlings increased. Still, the average price rose over seven percent.

Is the strength of the top-end carrying the result of these sales or is there strong performance across the board?

One fascinating item to note is the number of buyers for the top-end. There were 91 yearlings that sold for $100,000 or more at the Harrisburg. There were 53 individual buyers for those 91 yearlings. While some buyers bought three or more, there were a lot of individual buyers, which is a positive sign. On the average, the 53 individual buyers purchased 1.7 yearlings at the $100,000 or more purchase price.

In Lexington, there were 87 individual buyers for 207 yearlings, which equates to 2.37 yearlings per buyer that brought a purchase price of $100,000 or more.

We have seen a similar trend on the thoroughbred side as their sales have produced consistent record-breaking results this year, but they have felt economic impacts on the wagering front.

Harness wagering handle has outperformed thoroughbred racing from a year-over-year standpoint as the U.S. market is essentially flat for standardbred racing whereas thoroughbred racing is down close to $400 million on $10.2 billion in total wagering.

Standardbred racing does appear to have an opportunity going into 2027 as wagering handle has stabilized coming off a down year and the sales markets are holding up well, despite pressure from outside economic factors. There also seems to still be a diverse group of buyers at the top-end of the market.

We report on these matters when they arise each year. Sometimes wagering and sales are up. Sometimes they are down. When they are down, we need to understand why and what can be done to reverse the trend. When they are up, we need to put together a plan to build on that performance going into the next year.

Next year will certainly be an interesting one for the industry. The Hambletonian will be raced at a racetrack other than The Meadowlands for the first time in 46 years. The Breeders Crown heads to The Red Mile for the first time. New stallions, like the $3.7 million purchase Beau Jangles, will be bred for the first time. It does feel like standardbred racing is coming to a pivotal point in its history.

The United States economy is likely to continue its turbulent path, which is a difficult factor to gauge in how it will impact the industry. Major races are shifting amongst the racetracks. The Meadowlands has created a new day of racing as they try to work towards obtaining the casino license they have coveted for 15 years. The advent of prediction markets has become a topic many states are now acutely aware of and what impact that will have on horse racing and wagering is a topic that needs to be closely followed. At some point in the not too distant future we can expect some contraction in the sports betting markets, with some of the larger whales swallowing up the smaller fish. All these topics and more will have impacts on harness racing and the stakeholders in the industry should be paying very close attention on these topics and follow the corresponding impacts. While 2026 has been solid for the industry, there are many variables at play that we need to be cognizant of heading into 2027.

Melander looking to cap off big season with Grade 1 wins

By Jay Bergman

Birr Castle looks for the Breeders Crown/Goldsmith Maid double on Saturday.

It has been an outstanding year for trainer Marcus Melander. Heading into Saturday's (11/14) final two major juvenile trotting events, the Hambletonian-winning conditioner looks to add to a record earnings total with five 2-year-olds in the $383,830 Valley Victory and $386,830 Goldsmith Maid, half of the Final Four for freshmen at The Meadowlands. Melander, who sent out Apex to capture his first Hambletonian in August, looks to close out the campaign with Command Center, the Gimpanzee-sired half-brother to Apex, in the Valley Victory and Birr Castle, the Breeders Crown champion, among three in the Goldsmith Maid.

The Valley Victory (race 8) will come first for the freshmen on Saturday's 14-race stakes-filled program that includes the Governor's Cup and Three Diamonds for 2-year-old male and female pacers respectively as well as the FanDuel finals in all four divisions for older horses. With just six entered, Melander has two high-profile earners seeking the top prize and the $500,000 yearling purchase Command Center sets up in a good spot from post one with the sport's leading driver Dexter Dunn in the bike.

"We tried some new shoes on him for the qualifier and it didn't work out," said Melander when asked about the November 7 qualifier where Command Center broke stride approaching the half. "He'll go back to his old shoes."

Command Center has finished on the board five times in his six career starts, all over Lexington's Red Mile.

"He has raced well in every start except that Kentucky Championship when he made a break," said Melander. "He got sick after that race and I was hoping to get him back for the Breeders Crown, but we didn't have enough time."

Before ever racing, Melander had a very high opinion of Command Center. Given that he's trained most of the foals by the champion Mission Brief, Melander has an inside track to their development and overall ability.

"He's still my best 2-year-old," said Melander with confidence.

In Command Center's last pari-mutuel race at The Red Mile he captured a division of the Bluegrass on October 1 in a career-best 1:54 mile but he has shown sub-1:52 speed in preliminary legs of the Kentucky Championship.

Stablemate Gustav Vasa, a son of Face Time Bourbon of International acclaim, hopes to end his year on a high note but has already been a success for Melander, who co-owns with top European conditioner Daniel Reden.

"Daniel bought him, I believe after he had sold on Ongait," said Melander. "He didn't go for a lot of money, and he said that the Face Time Bourbon's usually sell for a lot more."

Gustav Vasa has looked like a bargain buy for a pair of trainers that have been dominant on both sides of the Atlantic. Recently second in the Kindergarten Series final after cutting the pace, Gustav Vasa starts from post four on Saturday.

"He was a little tough to handle behind the gate," said Melander, explaining why he was driving the horse through many of his earlier starts. "A lot of times we had more than one horse in the race with him and Dexter (Dunn) was driving the other."

Brett Beckwith has been able to manage him kindly through the last two starts and gets the assignment going for big money.

Bentley Blue Chip (post 3), a son of Walner and half-brother to the $1.5 million winning Plunge Blue Chip, hopes to make a late-season sweep of a pair of rich Meadowlands stakes events for trainer Ake Svanstedt. A winner in three of his nine races this year, Bentley Blue Chip was an upset winner in the Kindergarten final trotting to a 1:52 2/5 career-best clocking in the process.

The $386,830 Goldsmith Maid attracted a field of 11 and Melander sends out three, with Birr Castle, a potential divisional champion following her Breeders Crown victory, meeting up with the unbeaten Kountry Plunge for the first time.

"Birr Castle hasn't raced in three weeks, but I trained her the other morning and she feels good," said Melander with some confidence that the daughter of Captain Corey is set for a good mile on Saturday.

Birr Castle came from off the pace to capture the Crown, but Melander feels confident she can race on or off the pace. He'll leave that decision to Scott Zeron, who guides Birr Castle from post two.

Two Day Hangover, a Breeders Crown elimination winner for Melander, drew post six in the Goldsmith Maid (Race 9). "Where she was sitting in the Breeders Crown coming into the stretch I thought she was a winner," said Melander of the trip.

Two Day Hangover didn't fire in the stretch and finished seventh. "I expect her to be better, and she's trained well for this."

Athena's Girl (post 11) starts from the second tier. "It's better than drawing post 10," said Melander, who hopes the Walner-sired filly will regain the form she showed earlier this year when she captured the Grade 1 Peaceful Way at Woodbine Mohawk Park in August. "She got sick before the Breeders Crown. She's had just one start since then and I think she'll be better."

Kountry Plunge (post 4) has been the dominant trotter in New York this year, winning all seven starts including the $300,000 New York Sire Stakes championship at Yonkers on September 12. She went on to a career best 1:53 2/5 mile in capturing the $250,000 Big Apple final at Vernon Downs on October 9 and hasn't raced since. That lack of action has never been a problem for the Svanstedt stable in the past and the likelihood is that she'll be ready for battle on Saturday. Kountry Plunge faces the deepest field she's been up against in the Goldsmith Maid.

Nevis Peak, a determined second to Birr Castle in the Breeders Crown, drew post seven for the Goldsmith Maid for trainer Ron Burke and driver Yannick Gingras. The daughter of Hambletonian winner Ramona Hill has two wins this year and they have both come over the Meadowlands mile track.

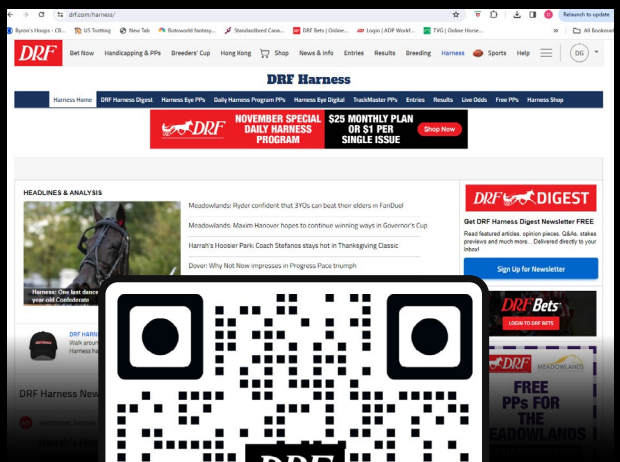

Climatic Hanover (post 1) is another freshman filly with enormous talent that could be a factor in the Goldsmith Maid. The Lucas Wallin-trained daughter of Walner scored in the Kentuckiana Management Stakes at Hoosier Park in a 1:52 2/5 mile in September and then had to deal with outside draws in both Breeders Crown elimination and final. The $725,000 half-sister to champion Maryland will be handled by Todd McCarthy.

Post time for the Saturday Meadowlands card, featuring eight stakes events in total, is 6:20 PM (ET).

Six millionaires entered in Thursday's Matrons at Dover

Six millionaires are slated to take part in Thursday's (Nov. 12) Grade 2 Matron Stakes for 3-year-olds at Bally's Dover, with a quartet of them headlining the $124,800 Hap Hansen Matron, for sophomore male pacers.

The Hansen, carded as the 12th race on a 15-race program, will see Al Papi, Melillo, Odds On Mr Mamba and Fragment all look to build on their already stout bankrolls.

Al Papi, installed the 5-2 morning line favorite, enters off a game first-over victory in the Grade 2 Monument Circle at Harrah's Hoosier Park following his second-place finish to Brandon Blvd in the Grade 1 Breeders Crown 3-Year-Old Colt and Gelding Pace at Eldorado Scioto Downs. Regular driver Yannick Gingras will pilot the Papi Rob Hanover-Baron Remy colt, who has won 10 races and earned $1,584,620, from post two.

Al Papi is one of four Ron Burke trainees in the Hansen, along with Melillo, whose eight wins include the Grade 2 Carl Milstein Memorial and this year's Pennsylvania Sire Stakes championship. A winner of $1,271,469, the Sweet Lou-Rosemary Rose colt will start from post four as the 7-2 morning line second choice with Ronnie Wrenn Jr. at the lines.

The other two seven-figure earners in the field are Grade 1 Pepsi North America Cup winner Odds On Mr Mamba, whom Dexter Dunn will drive from post five for trainer Melanie Wrenn, and Messenger and two-time New York Sire Stakes champ Fragment, whom Jason Partlett will drive from post eight for trainer Petter Engblom.

Breeders Crown winner Diabolic Hill will look for his fourth consecutive win in the $124,200 Matron for 3-year-old male trotters, carded as race 10. The Muscle Hill-Crysti Dream colt has been installed the 5-2 morning line favorite on the strength of his lifetime-best 1:50 4/5 win in the Breeders Crown, and Todd McCarthy will once again drive the earner of $1,081,167 for trainer Annie Stoebe.

Among his top rivals are New York Sire Stakes champ AI (Dexter Dunn, post six, 7-2), who makes his debut for Marcus Melander, and Minoan (Andy McCarthy, post seven, 9-2), who finished third in the Grade 1 Hambletonian.

Jugette winner Loua Dipa rounds out the sextet of millionaires, installed as the 5-2 morning line choice in the $103,000 Matron for sophomore fillies, carded as race eight. The Sweet Lou-Looksgoodinaromper filly has won 16 of her 26 career starts on her way to $1,352,618 in earnings to date, and Wrenn will again drive her for Burke from post two after they teamed up for a 1:49 win in the Grade 3 USS Indianapolis at Harrah's Hoosier Park.

Jugette runner-up Darlin's Angel (Lauren Tritton, post five, 7-2) and Adioo Volo and New Jersey Classic winner Be Perfect BG (Louis-Philippe Roy, post six, 9-2) are among the other main contenders.

Diabolic Hill seeks Matron success in 2026 finale

Annie Stoebe never doubted Diabolic Hill, and after watching him capture the Grade 1 Breeders Crown for 3-year-old male trotters last month at Eldorado Scioto Downs, the colt's trainer and co-owner had one word to describe the outcome.

"Validating," Stoebe said. "That would be a big word for me when it comes to this. It's just validating. I did it, my horse did it, my team did it; we have our Crown. He deserved it."

Diabolic Hill's crowning moment came 12 weeks after his season's most disappointing result, when he finished eighth in his Hambletonian Stakes elimination on Aug. 1 at the Meadowlands and failed to advance to the million-dollar Grade 1 final. But Diabolic Hill, who this year had three second-place finishes and one third-place finish in his four starts heading to the Hambletonian, was put on Lasix thereafter and rebounded.

"Diabolic was the first colt I ever trained, and our biggest goal was the Hambo," Stoebe said. "That was one of the hardest weeks of my life. It was hard to even race on Hambletonian Day. But I still showed up and still did everything, and then I just poured all my energy and focus into the Crown.

"It took a while for us to diagnose, but once we found out he was bleeding, he turned right around. I always knew the horse was a champion. I never lost faith in him. It was great to get it figured out; we were able to focus on the solution instead of the problem. It ended up paying off."

In his first race on Lasix, Diabolic Hill finished second in the $300,000 Earl Beal Jr. Memorial (G2) at Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania, missing by a neck against Inexpressable. Next, he was third in his elimination for the New Jersey Classic and then a locked-in seventh in the $250,000 final, beaten by only 2 1/2 lengths.

The son of Muscle Hill-Crysti Dream has not lost since.

He grabbed his first victory of the season in a conditioned race at Harrah's Philadelphia, then won his Breeders Crown elimination by a quarter-length over Hambletonian champ Apex in 1:51 2/5 and the $664,500 final by one length over Kentucky Futurity winner Nix Nacken in a career-best 1:50 4/5.

"It was so surreal," Stoebe said about winning the Breeders Crown. "I had a rough year this year. For me, it just showed that at the end of the day, hard work does eventually pay off, and I was able to finally take a big, deep breath."

On Thursday night (Nov. 12), Diabolic Hill will look to extend his winning streak to four as he closes out his campaign in the $124,200 Matron Stakes (G2) for sophomore male trotters at Bally's Dover. He will leave from post five with regular driver Todd McCarthy and is the 5-2 morning-line favorite.

"He's just feeling so good and so strong; I figured why not finish the year off on a good note and be ready for next year," Stoebe said.

For his career, Diabolic Hill has won eight of 21 races, including the Valley Victory Stakes (G1) in his final start of 2025. He has hit the board on nine other occasions and earned $1.08 million lifetime.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 12

Race 2

(3) MAD RIVER appeared to have pace in the lane last Wednesday but had no space to go with it. He takes a third crack at $15,000 claimers here and Braxten Boyd drives with Jason Bartlett not here.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 13

Race 10

(5) CHANTILLY is third back and took a decent jump in start two off the bench. I think she can get the best of a field that tends to scrap for wins at this level.

-Kevin Plowcha

Race 7

(2) STREET GOSSIP is tough to put on top as his record over the last couple of years indicates but this veteran always gives a good accounting of himself especially from inside posts. Note the barn change to familiar surroundings.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 14

Race 7

(6) ERVIN HANOVER had a rough go of it in last month and I heard rumors that he was dealing with some sickness. If those issues are cleared up now, and the three weeks off with a strong qualifier mixed in say they are, there could be opportunity here.

DAN PATCH AWARDS SCHEDULED FOR FEB. 21 AT ROSEN SHINGLE CREEK

The U.S. Harness Writers Association (USHWA) is pleased to announce that the 2027 Dan Patch Awards banquet, presented by Caesars Entertainment, will return to the popular Rosen Shingle Creek resort in Orlando, Fla., on Sunday, Feb. 21. The Dan Patch Awards banquet annually honors the best and brightest performers, both human and equine, of the previous season.

"I am so excited that USHWA's Dan Patch Awards festivities will once again be held at the luxurious Rosen Shingle Creek," said USHWA president Heather Vitale. "I can't think of a finer place to recognize harness racing's finest. The Rosen properties have been our home since 2018, and it's always been a great gathering."

The Rosen Shingle Creek resort is located just off Universal Boulevard, about 15 minutes from the Orlando International Airport and close to the many area attractions. The stunning 230-acre property includes four swimming pools, two lighted tennis courts, a spa that includes nine treatment rooms, a state-of-the-art fitness center, and an 18-hole, Arnold Palmer redesigned golf course.

There are also 15 restaurant/lounges, including the upscale steakhouse A Land Remembered, the fine-dining bistro Cala Bella, Café Osceola, Tobias Burgers and Brew, Banrai Sushi, Mi Casa Tequila and Taqueria, and a 24-hour deli. All attendees will receive a 10-percent discount at all the above-mentioned restaurants, and a greens fee discount at the Shingle Creek Golf Club.

A full weekend of activities are slated to take place in 2027, including a Saturday night, Feb. 20, poolside reception featuring star country singer Mitch Rossell and a Red Carpet cocktail party prior to the awards dinner. USHWA will hold its annual directors meeting on Saturday, and its general membership meeting the morning of the banquet.

All standard rooms under the USHWA block are $215 per night (plus applicable taxes). For room reservations, please CLICK HERE for USHWA's dedicated hotel link, which can also be found at the USHWA website www.usharnesswriters.com. The USHWA rate is guaranteed through Jan. 29, 2027.

To inquire about sponsorship opportunities for the weekend, including live video streaming and the Red Carpet reception, please contact USHWA Sponsorship Committee chairman Shawn Wiles at swiles@rwcatskills.com. ## DRIVER ALLAN DAVIS SCORES 4,000TH CAREER WIN

Longtime Delaware horseman Allan Davis reached the winner's circle as a driver for the 4,000th time in his career when he teamed Arette ($25.80) to an 11-1 upset in a $12,500 conditioned pace on Tuesday at Bally's Dover.

Davis angled Jim King Jr. trainee Arette off the pegs with seven-sixteenths to go, overtook the gapping Wheelhouse Hanover and caught the front flight before the far turn, and surged four-wide to collar even-money choice Papi Robazzi in the final 100 yards to score the milestone win in 1:54 4/5.

Since making his first trip behind the gate in 1995, the 50-year-old Davis has driven the winners of over $44.6 million and is in the midst of his 16th consecutive million-dollar season.

CHARITY DRIVER CHALLENGE AT WESTERN FAIR; CALENDAR CHANGE

The Raceway at Western Fair District has announced a change to its Pick-3 wagering format, a switched race date and has also finalized the driver lineup for its annual Drivers' Holiday Challenge in support of Toys for Tots.

The Raceway will reduce the minimum Pick-3 wager from $2 to $1 effective Friday, November 13.

The $2 minimum was introduced at the start of the season in an effort to enhance wagering value and generate larger payouts for horseplayers.

"We wanted to make a change coming into the season and, in hindsight, bumping the minimum from 20 cents to $2 was likely too ambitious," said Greg Blanchard, Director of Equine Programming. "It unquestionably bolstered the payouts, but overall pool size has dipped, so we've made the decision to adjust the minimum to $1 in hopes it generates more play while maintaining better payouts."

Race Date Change Announced

There will be a change to The Raceway's late-November racing schedule. The previously scheduled program scheduled for American Thanksgiving, Thursday, November 26, has been dropped and replaced with a race card on Tuesday, November 24.

The Tuesday program will feature The Raceway's popular "Trifecta Tuesday" dining offer at the Top of the Fair dining room.

The Raceway also announced the eight-driver field for the annual Drivers' Holiday Challenge, which will take place on Tuesday, December 8. The popular charitable event raises funds and awareness for Toys for Tots during the holiday season.

This year's lineup features Canada's current top three dash-winning drivers: Austin Sorrie, Brady Galliers, and Sam Fillion. They will be joined by Garret Rooney, Lorne House, Tyler Borth, Brett MacDonald, and Rob Doyle, who rounds out the outstanding field.

"We are blessed to have one of the deepest driver colonies you will see anywhere," said Blanchard. "We opted to keep it to our leading local drivers this year and it wound up as a very talented and competitive group. When these drivers compete in a challenge format it's always contentious. Fans will be treated to some of the best racing they will see in Canada this year."

Additional details regarding fundraising initiatives, event format, and community participation opportunities will be announced soon.

CATTLEWASH'S 2027 STUD BOOK OPENS WITH FEE HOLDING STEADY

The Cattlewash Syndicate and Tara Hills Stud are pleased to announce that the 2027 breeding book is now open for Cattlewash, with his stud fee remaining unchanged at USD $10,000.

The announcement was made by David Heffering, manager of the Cattlewash Syndicate and owner of Tara Hills Stud in Port Perry, Ontario, where the stallion stands.

Despite Cattlewash's extraordinary success as a sire, and expectations among many breeders that his fee would increase for 2027, Heffering explained that the syndicate's decision reflects its recognition of the economic challenges currently confronting Ontario breeders.
