

The University of Europe for Applied Sciences educates the designers and decisions-makers of tomorrow in the four faculties of Business, Psychology, Media, Sport and Design. It came into existence in 2017 after the merge of BTK University of Art & Design and BiTS University of Business Leadership. The University of Europe for Applied Sciences is member of Global University Systems (GUS) and opens up unlimited career opportunities to its students by awarding a degree with an international reputation. The HTK - Academy of Design is also part of our GUS network and has trained thousands of successful communication designers for a diverse range of creative professions in the international design industry.

The synergy of creativity, entrepreneurial digital thinking, and internationality mutually enriches the faculties and leads to new perspectives in teaching and research, meeting the needs of the job market in the 4.0 era.

To strengthen the rectorate, we are looking for a new member based in Berlin Region, either immediately or by arrangement.

Chancellor (f/m/d)

In this position, as a full-time member of the Rectorate, you are in charge of the university administration and supervise the service staff of the University of Europe for Applied Sciences with the goal to improve customer satisfaction constantly. You are also responsible for the operational implementation of the university's strategic goals, managing all non-academic operational aspects of the university and affiliated institutions. You will coordinate the university administration and take all precautions for the proper, economic and smooth completion of the university tasks in your area. You will manage the budget and thus be responsible for the management of the university budget. The Chancellor is accountable for implementing the University's strategic plan and for providing effective leadership of the operational areas of the School. The wide-ranging role includes strategic planning, financial and risk management, and management of the University's professional service teams with direct line management of three campus managers.

We are looking for a committed and communicative leader with several years of professional experience in an operational managerial position, preferably at a large customer oriented company or a scientific institution. The successful candidate will have good commercial skills and experience working in a fast-paced complex organisation along with extensive operational transformation experience. You are characterized by a distinct strategic and conceptual way of thinking, persuasiveness and communication skills.

The contract terms are subject to the current constitution of the University of Europe for Applied Sciences.

The University of Europe for Applied Sciences is striving to increase the proportion of women. Applications from qualified women are therefore expressly welcome.

The strict confidentiality of your application is guaranteed.
