How We May Use and Disclose Your PHI

Under the law, we may use or disclose your PHI under certain circumstances without your permission. The following categories describe the different ways that we may use and disclose your PHI. For each category of uses and disclosures, we will explain what we may use and disclose and present some examples. Not every use or disclosure in a category will be listed. However, all of the ways we are permitted to use and disclose information will fall within one of the categories.

For Treatment: We may use or disclose your PHI to facilitate medical treatment or services by providers. We may disclose medical information about you to providers, including doctors, nurses, technicians, medical students, or other hospital personnel who are involved to take care of you. For example, we might disclose information about your prior prescriptions to a pharmacist or medical provider to determine if prior prescriptions contradict a pending prescription or is dangerous for you to use.

For Payment: We may use or disclose your PHI to determine your eligibility for Plan benefits, to facilitate payment for the treatment and services you receive from health care providers, to determine benefit responsibility under the Plan or to coordinate Plan coverage. For example, we may tell your health care provider about your medical history to determine whether a particular treatment is experimental, investigational, or medically necessary, or to determine whether the Plan will cover the treatment. We may also share your protected health information or electronic protected health information with a utilization review or pre-certification service provider. Likewise, we may share your PHI with another entity to assist with the adjudication or subrogation of health claims or to another health plan to coordinate benefit payments. We may also share your PHI, at your request, that is contained on claims submitted by medical or dental providers in an effort to verify that claims were paid correctly or to advocate for a correction in how claims were paid.

For Health Care Operations: We may use or disclose your PHI for other Plan operations. These uses and disclosures are necessary to run the Plan. For example, we may use medical information in connection with conducting quality assessment and improvement activities, underwriting, premium rating, and other activities relating to Plan coverage; submitting claims for stop-loss coverage, conducting or arranging for medical review, legal services, audit services, and fraud/abuse detection programs; business planning and development such as cost management and plan renewal management so that informed decisions can be made regarding any such prospective changes to benefit plans; and business management and general Plan administrative activities, including evaluating an employee's eligibility and administering the employee benefit plans or to providing you with information about benefits available to you under your current benefits plans. The Plan is prohibited from using or disclosing PHI that is genetic information about an individual for underwriting purposes.

To Business Associates, Subcontractors, Brokers, or Agents: We may contract with individuals or entities known as Business Associates to perform various functions on our behalf or to provide certain types of services. In order to perform these functions or to provide these services, Business Associates will receive, create, maintain, use and/or disclose your PHI, but only after they agree, in writing with us, to implement appropriate safeguards regarding your PHI. For example we may disclose your PHI to a

HIPAA Privacy and Security Notice of Privacy Practices

Business Associate to administer claims or to provide support services such as utilization management, pharmacy benefit management or subrogation, but only after the Business Associate enters into a Business Associate Agreement with us. Our Business Associates are required to have each of their subcontractors or agents agree in writing to provisions that impose at least the same obligations to protect PHI as are imposed on Business Associates by the Business Associate Agreement required by HIPAA regulations.

As Required by Law: We will disclose your PHI when required to do so by federal, state or local law for law enforcement or specific government functions. For example, we may disclose your PHI when required to do so by national security laws or public health disclosure laws, or to a governmental agency or regulator with health care oversight responsibilities.

To Avert a Serious Threat to Health or Safety: We may use and disclose your PHI when necessary to prevent a serious threat to your health or safety, or the health and safety of the public or another person. Any disclosure however, would only be to someone able to help prevent the threat. For example, we may disclose your PHI in a proceeding regarding the licensure of a physician, to federal, state or local agencies engaged in disaster relief, or to private disaster assistance agencies to allow such entities to carry out their responsibilities in specific disaster situations.

To Plan Sponsors: For the purpose of administering the Plan, we may disclose PHI to certain employees of the Plan Sponsor. However, those employees will only use or disclose that information as necessary to perform plan administrative functions or as otherwise required by HIPAA, unless you have authorized further disclosures. Your PHI cannot be used for employment purposes without your specific authorization.

Special Situations for Use and Disclosure of Your PHI

In addition to the use and disclosure categories above, the following categories describe other possible ways that we may use and disclose your PHI. For each category of uses or disclosures, we will explain what we mean and present some examples. Not every use or disclosure in a category will be listed. However, all of the ways we are permitted to use and disclose information will fall within one of the categories.

Organ and Tissue Donation: If you are an organ donor, we may release your PHI to organizations that handle organ procurement or organ, eye or tissue transplantation or to an organ donation bank, as necessary to facilitate organ or tissue donation and transplantation.

Military and Veterans: If you are a member of the armed forces, we may release your PHI as required by military command authorities. We may also release PHI about foreign military personnel to the appropriate foreign military authority.

Lawsuits and Disputes: If you are involved in a lawsuit or a dispute, we may disclose your PHI in response to a court or administrative order. We may also disclose your PHI in response to a subpoena, discovery request, or other lawful process by someone else involved in the dispute, but only if efforts have been made to tell you about the request or to obtain an order protecting the information requested.

Law Enforcement: We may disclose your PHI in response to a request by a law enforcement official. For example:

- In response to a court order, subpoena, warrant, summons, or similar process;
- To identify or locate a suspect, fugitive, material witness, or missing person;

We may also release medical information about patients to funeral directors as necessary to carry out their duties.

Authorizations: Other uses or disclosures of your PHI not described above, including the use and disclosure of psychotherapy notes and the use or disclosure of PHI for fundraising or marketing purposes, will not be made without your written authorization. If you provide us with an authorization to use or disclose PHI about you, you may revoke that authorization at any time, so long as the revocation is in writing. Once we receive your written revocation, we will no longer use or disclose PHI about you for the reasons covered by your written authorization. However, such revocation will only be effective for future uses and disclosures; it will not be effective for any information that may have been used or disclosed in reliance upon the written authorization and prior to receiving your written revocation. You should understand that all revocations are prospective and we are unable to take back any disclosures we have already made under your authorization and that we are required to retain our records of care provided to you.

1. You have been, or may be, subjected to domestic violence, abuse or neglect by such person;
2. Treating such person as your personal representative could endanger you; or

As such, if a breach occurs, we will notify affected individuals of the breach of unsecured PHI and notify the Department of Health and Human Services (as required by regulations). If more than ten individuals are affected and cannot be contacted directly, we will post a general notification of the breach on our web site and notify local print media. If more than 500 individuals are affected by the breach, we will report the breach to well-known media outlets of the breach. We are required to keep a log of all security breaches and all individuals affected by such breaches.

Your Rights

Right to Inspect and Copy: You have the right to inspect and copy certain PHI that may be used to make decisions about your health care benefits. To inspect and copy your PHI, you must submit your request in writing to the HIPAA Privacy Contact Person. If you request a copy of the information, we may charge a reasonable fee for the costs of copying, mailing or other supplies associated with your request. We may deny your request to inspect and copy certain types of PHI in very limited circumstances, such as PHI that is collected by us in connection with, or in reasonable anticipation of any claim or legal proceeding. If you are denied access to your medical information, you may request that the denial be reviewed by submitting a written request to the HIPAA Privacy Contact Person.

Right to Amend: If you feel that the PHI we have about you is incorrect or incomplete, you may ask us to amend the information. You have the right to request an amendment for as long as the information is kept by or for the Plan. To request an amendment, your request must be made in writing and submitted to the HIPAA Privacy Contact Person. In addition, you must provide a reason that supports your request. We may deny your request for an amendment if it is not in writing or does not include a reason to support the request. In addition, we may deny your request if you ask us to amend information that:

1. Is not part of the medical information kept by or for the Plan;
2. Was not created by us, unless the person or entity that created the information is no longer available to make the amendment;
3. Is not part of the information that you would be permitted to inspect and copy; or
4. Is already accurate and complete.

If we deny your request, you have the right to file a statement of disagreement with us and any future disclosures to the disputed information will include your statement.

Right to an Accounting of Disclosures: You have the right to request an “accounting” of certain disclosures of your PHI. The accounting will not include:

1. Disclosures for purposes of treatment, payment, or health care operations;
2. Disclosures made to you;
3. Disclosures made pursuant to your authorization;
4. Disclosures made to friends or family in your presence or because of an emergency;
5. Disclosures for national security purposes; and
6. Disclosures incidental to otherwise permissible disclosures.

To request this accounting, you must submit your request in writing to the HIPAA Privacy Contact Person as provided above under Contact Information. Your request must state the time period through which you want to receive a list of disclosures. The time period may not be longer than six (6) years, or commence before the initial effective date stated in this Notice. Your request should indicate in what form you want the list (for example, paper or electronic). The first list you request within a 12-month period will be provided free of charge. For additional lists, we may charge you the costs of providing the list. We will notify you of the cost involved and you may choose to withdraw or modify your request at that time before any costs are incurred.

Right to Request Restrictions: You have the right to request a restriction on how or where your PHI may be used or disclosed for treatment, payment, or health care operations. You also have the right to request a limit on your PHI that we disclose to someone who is involved in your care or the payment for your care, like a family member or friend. For example, you could ask that we not use or disclose information about a surgery that you had. While we will consider your request, we are not required to agree to it. However, if we do agree to the request, we will honor the restriction until you revoke it or we notify you. To request a restriction, you must make your request in writing to the HIPAA Privacy Contact Person as provided above under Contact Information. In your request, you must tell us (1) what information you want to limit; (2) whether you want to limit our use, disclosure or both; and (3) to whom you want the limits to apply, for example, disclosures to your spouse. We will not agree to restrictions on PHI uses or disclosures that are legally required, or which are necessary to administer our business.

Right to Request Confidential Communications: You have the right to request that we communicate with you about medical matters in a certain way or at a certain location if you tell us that such alternate communication is necessary to protect you from endangerment. For example, you can ask that we only contact you at work or by mail. To request confidential communications, you must make your request in writing to the HIPAA Privacy Contact Person as provided above under Contact Information. We will not ask the specific reason for your request. Your request must specify how or where you wish to be contacted. We will accommodate all reasonable requests if you clearly provide information that the disclosure of all or part of your PHI could endanger you.

Right to a Paper Copy of this Notice: You have the right to a paper copy of this Notice. You may ask us to give you a copy of this Notice at any time. Even if you have agreed to receive this Notice electronically, you are still entitled to a paper copy of this Notice. For information regarding how to obtain a paper or electronic copy of this notice, inquire with the HIPAA Privacy Contact Person as provided above under Contact Information.

Right to Notice of a Breach: You have the right to be notified in the event of any breach of electronic Protected Health Information. In the event of any breach, you will be notified at your last known address of the nature and details of such breach and of the corrective action taken.

Complaints

If you believe your privacy rights have been violated, you may file a complaint with the Plan or with the Office for Civil Rights (a division of the Department of Health and Human Services). If you have questions about how to file a complaint or wish to file a complaint with the Plan, contact the HIPAA Privacy Contact Person for details. All inquiries and correspondence regarding the complaint should be forwarded to the HIPAA Privacy Contact Person. All complaints must be submitted in writing.
