

CaterSpot launches hawker meals for corporates

Popular hawker centres in the CBD are now available via CaterSpot

Singapore – July 15, 2019 – CaterSpot, Asia’s largest online catering marketplace, today announced that meals from popular hawker centres in the CBD are now available on the CaterSpot platform. There was high demand from corporate clients for hawker fare for their lunches and events, whether because of team preferences or low budgets. Meals are available from Amoy St Food Centre, Maxwell Food Centre, Tiong Bahru Market & Food Centre and Hong Lim Market & Food Centre (find them here).

Customers can order from multiple stalls within one order to give even greater choice for their meals. Coupled with CaterSpot’s group order feature where everyone can pick their own meal, companies can allow their teams to each pick a meal from various stalls in one order.

“Singaporeans love hawker fare and we’re so excited to be able to deliver meals from Hawker centres in addition to our restaurant and catering company menus,” says Camilo Paredes, CEO & Co-founder of CaterSpot.

About CaterSpot

CaterSpot is the leading b2b food delivery service in Asia that lets companies order food for all workplace needs – from daily lunches to meetings to corporate events. CaterSpot connects companies with 500+ catering partners in Asia with its easy online platform. Companies can order themselves online, get help from a CaterSpot Concierge for corporate events, or subscribe to a full-service Meal Plan for their recurring orders. Beyond ordering, CaterSpot provides a corporate management tool that lets companies manage employee user accounts, track spending, and centralise invoicing.

For more information or to place a catering order, visit www.caterspot.sg.

MEDIA CONTACT:

For all media inquiries about CaterSpot, please contact:
marketing@caterspot.com

