Service Alert

There was a severe outbreak of Tornadoes in the Dayton, Ohio area last night that has left our Corporate Office without power. If you are trying to reach someone at the Corporate Office and are not able to get through, we are asking that you utilize our website at www.daytonfreight.com or contact one of our service centers directly until our office is back up completely. Please know that our Service Centers were not affected and are fully operational today.

Thank you for your patience and understanding while we manage these conditions.

Thank you for your business!
