Frequently Asked Questions

How many days it took to complete the website design?

Depends on client's requirements, we typically only took 3 - up to 7 working days.The timeline vary based on client's speed to provide the website materials.

What materials do I need to provide?

Prior to the website designing, we will arrange an alignment call with clients to understand their website requirements and align on the materials needed for website designing based on requirements in the call itself.

How many revisions am I entitled to if the website is not up to my expectation?

For Standard package, 1 amendment is entitled

Can I combine 2 different languages into the website?

This services are for 1 type of language as doing for 2 types of languages requires double amount of work (eg; graphic design for each language). If multiple languages are required, please engage a 2nd purchase of the service.

If I explain my business, can SHOPLINE assists with the write-ups and contents?

We only help on the designing area, but not the content. Clients will be required to come up with the contents and provide it to us for us to input into the website accordingly.

I am having difficulties compiling my materials in full. Can the designer begin with only a few parts of materials?

We are doing our best to help clients as we can. However, for this matter unfortunately we aren't able to help with as we continuously are working on websites that are queueing daily with full materials provided - this would be our priority.
