

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

from potential clients about
Virtual Exhibitions

1. What's the main advantage of the virtual event?

- Collecting leads and getting contact information of potential clients that you can export and integrate within your CRM
- Get visitors to your booth and Brand exposure

2. How can I interact with the visitors?

Once the attendees are at your booth, they can download your pdfs, watch the videos you uploaded, leave you messages and chat with you through the instant messaging tool. This may help you to qualify the lead.

3. Will I need to be connected and paying attention to the screen all the time?

Not at all. During the live days, you just need to have the event open and when a new visitor want to speak with you, you'll hear a sound alert.

4. How do I have access to the leads I get?

Every exhibitor has Access to an online content management tool through a user and password that we'll send you. With this credentials, you can check in real time the contact information of those attendees who visit your booths. You can export them and import them into you CRM for following up.

5. What's the difference with a physical booth?

It lets you collect more leads from all around the world and it's in line with your digital strategies.

6. How many people is recommended to attend visitors at the booth?

You can have up to 10 reps at the booth from different locations. All of them have their own log in credentials and can be at the booth with their own name and picture. This is great for building trust and going deeper into the person to person conversation (even being online).

7. Are there any technical restrictions?

The virtual event doesn't require any download and will run smoothly on big most of corporate computers. Our instant Messaging tool uses the standard internet ports so the only restriction would be a strong corporate firewall. If this is the case, we are open to speak to your network administrator.

8. Is the platform integrated automatically with CRM?

There are many CRMs in the market so the platform is designed for letting you export the contact information so that you make and import afterwards.

Some common objections you may find

1. This is too expensive

Price of a virtual event depends on the number of collected leads and the visits to the booths. The opportunity of gathering contact information from clients around the world is what makes the virtual event really valuable.

2. I prefer the direct contact with people

Indeed, and a virtual event is a complement of the physical exhibition, not a substitution. But online contact through video conference or written chat is good way of getting qualified leads and start a relationship with a potential client.

3. I don't have time to populate the booth

Expected workload is 90 minutes, and also we may do that work for you

4. I don't have resources to assign people to chat with the visitors

Many exhibitors don't have the chat feature activated during the virtual event that's not a problema. You'll keep on receiving leads and contact information from potential clients at all times.
